Commitment to excellence displayed by E.T. students

The student body of El Toro High School displayed commitment to excellence through involvement in clubs, activities, sports, and academics.

Excellence was exhibited by a large variety of clubs on campus. Keywanettes, and the Key Club were commended for their efforts by receiving trophies of achievement at their annual spring conventions. Due to their superiority in their competitions and parades, the Royal Blue Regime, which consisted of the Marching Band, Color Guard, and the Chargette Drill Team, were selected to participate in the prestigious 1985 Tournament of Roses Parade on New Year's Day. The Jazz Band and Orchestra continually strived for better performances. These two groups exemplified excellence at the All-District Music Festival held at the Anaheim Convention Center. The Jazz Band also displayed excellence at jazz festivals. The Orchestra put forth an excellent performance at the annual musical, "The Boyfriend." Girls' League organized the traditional Winter Formal with class. Mr. Jerry Rouse led the Chamber, Charger, Concert, and Treble Choirs, once again to success. The Chamber choir had numerous performances around the community, and the other choirs had numerous holiday concerts. The three levels of Dance exhibited their knowledge in the art at various dance concerts, such as the Children's Dance Carousel and their final Dance Production. The Associated Student Body was instrumental in helping to organize all activities held throughout the year.

Students' participation in activities made them excellent. Drama surpassed all of their competitors at drama competitions. The students' involvement in Spirit Week made it excellent. The cheerleaders and pep commissioner promoted an abundance of spirit among the faculty and students alike, especially in sports.

Commitment to Excellence was especially true for sports. The athletes worked hard and were determined to emerge victorious, and in the process set personal records. The boys' and girls' teams were among the top ranked schools in the South Coast League. The coaches were always supportive and put forth their best effort to help the team achieve excellence.

The faculty poured time and energy into creating excellence in academics. Groups such as the California Scholarship Federation and the Orange County Academic Decathlon exemplified academic excellence. To create a better classroom environment, the teachers were willing to put forth extra effort. Four El Toro students placed in the top one-half percent on the PSAT/NMSQT. The strict qualifications to be placed in the Honors courses compelled the students to work harder.

Commitment to Excellence was the driving force of all those associated with El Toro High School, and it was proudly displayed.

Mr. Keith Osborn honored for support and dedication

Mr. Keith Osborn was chosen as the dedicatee for the 1984-85 year for his commitment to excellence as a teacher, coach, and supporter of the student body. Mr. Osborn has been a part of the faculty since 1973, when El Toro first opened its doors. Since then, he has remained active and involved with the school.

In the classroom he taught World Cultures, and outside the classroom, he coached girls' track and boys' frosh-soph soccer. He was always willing to help, and supported his students and athletes.

After the regular school hours, Mr. Osborn used his own time to clean and beautify the school. Mr. Osborn always went out of his way to promote spirit and enthusiasm during assemblies and pep rallies. He also volunteered to serve as the advisor for the Key Club, and during football season, announced every football game.

The Amanecer staff would like to recognize and honor Mr. Keith Osborn for all his effort, hard work, and dedication.

Faculty chooses Daugherty for 'Teacher of the Year'

Chosen by the faculty as "Teacher of the Year," English teacher Mr. Jim Daugherty was truly committed to excellence.

Mr. Daugherty taught a variety of classes over his 16 years as a teacher. These classes included ESL-English as a Second Language, Workshop English, Advanced Composition, and Modern Novel.

Not only did he teach classes, but he also was active in a number of other programs such as the Hart Bill test and athletics. Mr. Daugherty operated a pull-out program for the Hart Bill Test in which he gave personal assistance to students who needed special instruction in order to pass the test. In the past he has coached boys' JV baseball and girls' softball. Other areas of his involvement included president of the El Toro Faculty Club, a noon supervisor, a tutor, and an evening librarian.

Mr. Jim Daugherty, through his involvement as a teacher, was representative of the faculty's Commitment to Excellence.

Seniors "Bear It All" on a Teddy-Bear Baby Day

The day began with the Senior breakfast, which was held in the multi-purpose room by various faculty members. Mr. John Schroeder headed the organizing committee with the help of Mr. Bill Neibel and Mr. Bob Bosanko. Immediately following the breakfast were games and, eventually, the beginning of class. During snack and lunch seniors participated in games such as "Cub-Cub-Bear," "Teddy, Teddy, are you ready," and "Yogi Says." "Follow the Leader," with Joe Mortensen as the leader, led the babies through the quad, office, and lunch line.

Hall decorations included a playground for stuffed animals, "bear" settings, and a baby picture "hall of fame."

So, what did the seniors have to say about Baby Day? Sam Svitenko said, "Baby Day was outstanding. The activities that went on that day . . . will make it very hard to forget." "The great thing about Baby Day was that it unified the seniors. We were all babies, we all laughed, and we all beared it." stated Sang Kim, A.S.B. school board representative. A.S.B. president Ken Farrell added, "With four long years of waiting for our Baby Day, everyone wanted it to be the best yet. And I think it was." Ramsey Lozano simply stated, "Excellent! Truly excellent!" Senior class president Wendy Roehricht summed up the week and its activities in her statement: "Spirit week (for the class of 1985) was a definite success, and excellent in every way!"

Underclass is successful in earning many spirit points

On Tuesday, October 16, a collage of colorful students engulfed the campus dressed as teenyboppers, hula dancers, and cavemen. The occasion was Theme Day.

Juniors kept the 50's spirit alive with a version of "American Bandstand," held at lunch in the quad. Poodle skirts and leather jackets crowded the dance floor as Tom Turner acted out the part of Dick Clark from the legendary show. At snack, root beer floats were served to all juniors who dressed up.

Sophomores dressed "Hawaiian" in brightly colored prints and leis. At snack there was a luau, complete with tropical fruits and coconuts. A limbo contest was held at lunch and hula lessons were offered by Tanya McKinney.

Freshmen came to school wearing a variety of leopard prints, dragging clubs with them, and chanting "We are Cannibals," as they showed off their cavemen theme. A Pebbles and Bam-Bam contest was held at snack. The festivities continued at lunch, where a Best Primitive Man contest, tribal foot race and Cactus Cooler drinking contest were conducted.

All in all, the sophomores had the biggest turnout, with the juniors in a close second. The freshmen came in third but they had the biggest turnout ever from previous classes.

Frank Appice is crowned as Homecoming King at dance

The Homecoming Dance was held on Saturday, October 20, in the gym. The theme was "Time After Time."

Semi-formally attired couples danced to current tunes by the band "Matrix." A refreshment bar was set up and tables lined the sides of the gym so that students could rest between dances and mingle with others. Also, a photographer was at hand to take photos of the couples.

At the dance, Frank Appice was announced as the Homecoming King and, after he was crowned, he danced the traditional Homecoming dance with Queen Lisa Cass to the song "Time After Time," by Cyndi Lauper. Eventually, other couples joined the King and Queen on the dance floor. Among them were the other court nominees: Princes Darrin Dick, Bill Miller, Joe Mortensen, and Sam Svitenko; Princesses Laura Conway, Kim Martin, Wendy Roehricht, and Jane Rowen.

Lisa Cass reigns as the 1984-85 Homecoming Queen

The annual Homecoming activities included the assembly, the football game, and the half-time show, during which the queen was crowned.

At the Homecoming assembly, A.S.B. President Ken Farrell, escorted by the "secret service," delivered a speech to the students. Alumni cheerleaders performed for the school and the Homecoming court was introduced. King nominees included Frank Appice, Darrin Dick, Bill Miller, Joe Mortensen, and Sam Svitenko. Lisa Cass, Laura Conway, Kim Martin, Wendy Roehricht, and Jane Rowen were nominated for Queen. As an added highlight, Pep Commissioner Joe Mortensen played a tape of a phone call with alumnist Rob Ryan, last year's A.S.B. Vice President.

The football game, held at Mission Stadium, pitted El Toro against Warren High, where El Toro emerged victorious with a final score of 38-0.

At the half-time show, the Homecoming Queen nominees and returning Queen Celeste Reineck arrived in Mercedes-Benz convertibles. As the 1984-85 Queen was about to be announced, "gangsters" Mr. Jeff Grosse and Mr. Paul Joyce arrived on the scene, threatening to kidnap the queen. Marines who were "borrowed" from the El Toro Marine Base were called in to "save the day" to the tune of "Aames Home Loan." The gangsters rapidly departed as Mr. Mike Waddell and Mr. Glen Dill drove onto the field in another Mercedes-Benz. Lisa Cass was announced as the new queen and was crowned by Celeste Reineck. Cass was then escorted by Mr. Waddell and Mr. Dill on a ride around the football field.

McLain and Sweazy crowned at Winter Formal

The 1985 Winter Formal, sponsored by the Girls' League, was held on Saturday, January 19, at the Costa Mesa Country Club. The performing band, "Restless," played all of the latest hits.

The formal's theme was "A Winter Paradise;" complemented by the chosen colors of pink, silver and white. The theme song was "Almost Paradise," originally sung by Mike Reno and Ann Wilson.

Near the end of the dance, everyone held their breath to see who would be crowned King and Queen. Tim McLain was chosen as King and Danielle Sweazy as Queen. The Senior Princes were Scot Sanders and Scott Shockey and Senior Princesses were Stephanie Dearinger and Tracey Mosh. The princes and princesses for the other three classes were prechosen at school. They were: Junior Prince and Princess — Kevin Piel and Michele Walsh; Sophomore Prince and Princess — Shane Brisbin and Kristie Arthur.

The Red Cross Blood Drive held on St. Valentine's Day

This year's blood drive by the Red Cross was held on February 14, 1985. The drive, held in the library, lasted all day. A.S.B., Key Club and Keywanettes put together the event, with Earl Desiderio as chairman and Chieko Woods as his assistant.

This drive was held to aid a man named John Mondry, who was undergoing a bone marrow transplant for acute leukemia. Altogether, 173 people showed up, donating 144 pints of blood. This was three pints more than from the previous drive of last year.

All in all, the drive went smoothly and swiftly without any problems.

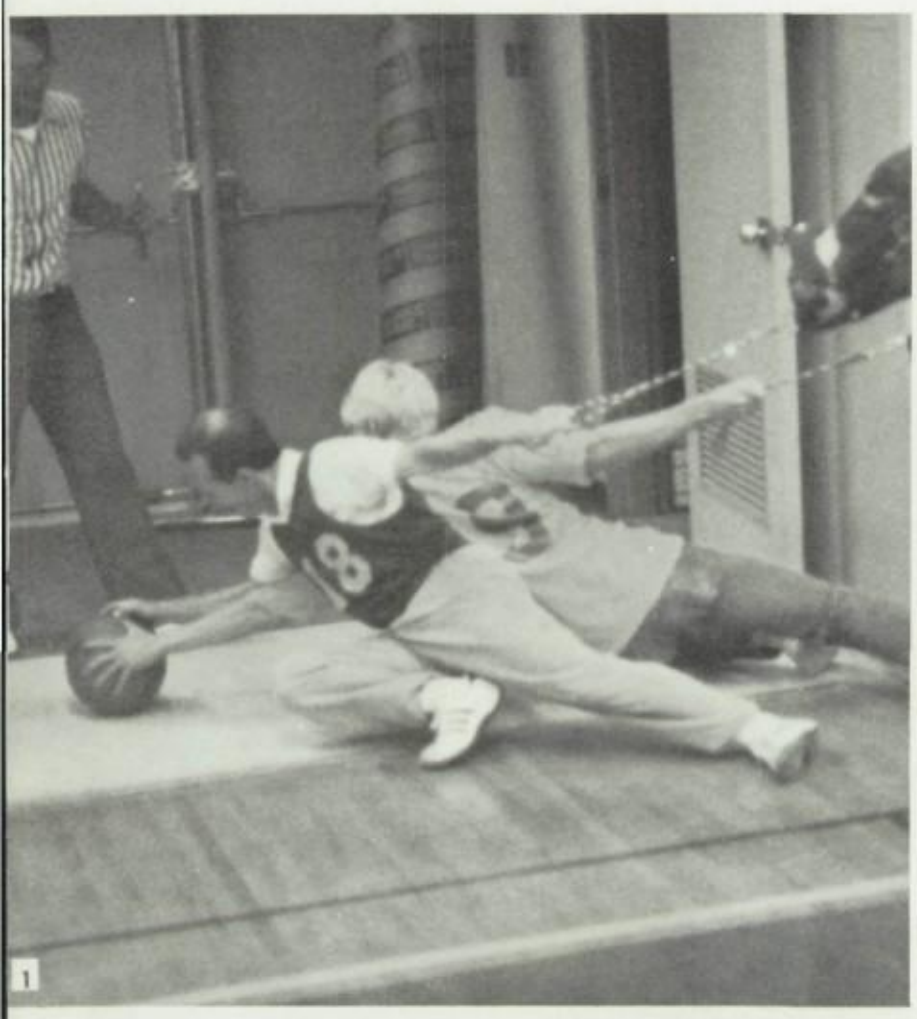
Faculty is again victorious in Donkey Basketball game

The annual Donkey Basketball game, held in the gym, pitted Key Club members against the El Toro faculty members. The faculty won, with a score of 54-36.

The event was organized by ASB President Ken Farrell and Key Club President Bill Miller, with the help of Mr. Keith Sims, activities director. Highlights of the evening included Mr. Greg Yeck's inability to remain on the donkey, and the antics of Mrs. Kay Beth Kunsaitis, who was unable to climb onto the donkey without help. Additional highlights included the introduction of the "Super Duper Pooper Scooper," and Mr. Mike Waddell's anxious scrambles after the ball. Laura Conway was responsible for scoring the majority of points for the student team.



1. Mr. Jones and Chris Holtzer go to extremes to get the ball for his own team. 2. Mr. Waddell struggles to get back on his donkey as Andrea Hackett looks on. 3. Mr. Yeck and Rob Bryant jump for the ball to start the game. 4. The Donkey Basketball players look very confident before the big game.

Band, students join in New Year activities in Pasadena

On New Year's Eve, while most of El Toro celebrated the start of the New Year, several students and band members made last-minute preparations for the 96th annual Tournament of Roses Parade.

The parade took place in Pasadena, California on New Year's Day. Incorporated into the parade were bands, show horses, and floats that had every inch of surface covered with some form of vegetation. Each year people from all over the nation migrate to Los Angeles to view the parade. Few were fortunate enough to participate in the floral festivities, but El Toro students and band members had that opportunity.

The El Toro High School Royal Blue Regime, directed by Ms. Pat Rainer, was led through the streets by Drum Majors Don White and Roger Berger. The band was selected for the special event through a previous competition.

Throughout the Christmas break, school members of the band spent their holiday perfecting their performance which was viewed by millions.

The band was not the only part of El Toro involved in the parade. From December 26 through New Year's Day, almost fifty students actively participated in the floral decoration of the Mission Viejo Company float entry. These students, who were organized by Senior Tiffany Reinoehl, spent as much as fourteen hours straight per day pasting petals, moss, and seeds to areas on the float. In return for the labor from students, the Mission Viejo Company gave money to the A.S.B. The float was decorated by students from Capistrano Valley, Mission Viejo, Laguna Hills, and Silverado, as well as El Toro. The Homecoming Queens from these five high schools rode on the float.

ASB sponsored assemblies encourage students' spirit

A male pep commissioner brought forth a new change in this year's assemblies and pep rallies. Joe Mortensen, along with the rest of ASB, were successful in keeping school spirit uplifted and strong.

"Incredible," remarked Joe in describing the impact of this year's spirit. 1984-85 was one of the more spirited years at El Toro.

Once again ASB sponsored the assemblies and rallies. They also performed skits from ideas either from ASB camp or the ASB itself. Along with ASB, the pep squad, Marching Band and Chargette Drill Team played a big part in the presentation of the assemblies.

Although the assemblies and pep rallies this year were very successful for the most part, Joe doesn't overlook the fact that there's always room to improve the quality of the assemblies and rallies.

"Anything can be improved," he said. "It's hard to get a perfect assembly or rally every time. You're always going to get a few flops, but you just have to try and do the best you can with what the students like to see. I try to get everyone involved so that everybody is having a good time and no one is left out."

The hard work and continual enthusiasm of ASB in the planning of the assemblies is an example of their commitment to excellence at El Toro High School.

Hillenger directs drama in fall production of Voices

Under the direction of Ms. Sheila Hillinger, the students enrolled in Drama 3 and 4 performed Voices: from the High School.

Highlights of the show included Traycie Puckett and her band, "The Hoodlums," which consisted of Joni Friant, Tina Fortune, Mia Gasporre, and Lori Lopez. Also, Janice Foster performed a heart-shredding monologue about attempting suicide. On a lighter note, Mitch Gilbert and Cheryl Montroy portrayed the excitement of falling in love for the first time.

The play itself focused on high school and its memories, good and bad. It was about growing up. The audience laughed and cried, but mostly the show made the viewers think.

Voices involved no leading cast members and a simple stage design. It was performed in Charger Hall on November 15 through the 17.

The production was entered in the Southern California Educational Theatre Association.

1. The cast of Voices: from the High School, consisting of Drama 3 and 4 students, performs the opening to their show. 2. Carolyn Baldwin describes the hurts of being dumped while in love. 3. Mitch Gilbert and Cheryl Montroy portray what falling in love is all about. 4. Kim Rombardo gives confidence to her best friend during cheerleading tryouts. 5. Michelle Swick learns about boys and their locker room talk.

Malkin and Truncale stage first annual lip-sync show

The first annual lip-sync, held on Wednesday, February 6, in Charger Hall, was a sold out success. Michael Truncale and Larry Malkin were co-producers of the show. Along with setting up the show, they each performed in it. Different acts include Wham!, Oingo Boingo and New Edition.

The highlight of the show was Lance Egan's unbeatable performance as Frank Sinatra's singing "New York, New York." For this, he received a standing ovation. Also, Seniors Chuck Boettcher, Sam Svitenko and Tim Warner performed "Panama" originally done by Van Halen. Nika Shoemaker added breakers to her Chaka Khan "I Feel For You" routine.

All in all, 14 acts were staged. Tickets sold for separate prices of $2.00, .50 and $3.00, depending on the seating that was offered.

Props played an important part of the show. Various things were used, such as flowers, bubbles, and smoke.

Hillinger and Rouse head the annual spring musical

This year's musical was called "The Boyfriend." It was held March 19-23 (Tuesday through Saturday). The musical, by Sandy Wilson, was directed by Mrs. Sheila Hillinger and Mr. Jerry Rouse coordinated the singing.

As a roaring 20's musical, the story evolves around a rich, English girl who attends a French school. Her name is Polly Browne, and she falls in love with a poor messenger boy named Tony Brockhurst. Bobby Van Heusen adores Maisie Merriweather, Polly's best friend, and he in constant pursuit of her. Polly's father, when visiting his daughter at school, is reunited with his old love, Madame Dubonnet. These three love stories make up most of the musical.

Tickets sold for $5.00 without an ASB card, and $4.00 for students with an ASB card.

Spring concert dances are centered around America

The annual spring concert for dance production was held on April 25 through 26, (Thursday-Saturday), in Charger Hall at 7:30 p.m. This year's theme was called "Dancetime U.S.A." and many of the dances were centered around America. The dances were placed into four sections: north, south, east, and west. Different styles of dancing were presented in the show, such as modern, jazz, and tap.

Although members of dance production were the chief performers in the show, there were a few intermediate dancers who took part in it also.

Dance Production is headed by Mrs. Carol Mitchell and the dance manager is Sydney Muth. Dance Production is held during period 2 and Intermediate Dance is during period 3.

1. Senior Mia Moorehead, junior Kathy Won, and sophomores Anmarie Herman and Ginny Marrin represent the west section of the dance. 2. Kristin Stratton, Kim Fleming, Kim Hunt, Stacy Kaminski, Tracey Bauer, Sharon Hanger, Natalie Nicole and Cheryl Hanger pose for the north section. 3. Senior Natalie Nicole and junior Kimm Rombardo as the south section. 4. Junior Stephanie Walsh, and sophomores Holly Smith, Pam Kunath, Theresa Flaherty and Melissa Botsford display the bustling activities of the east section. 5. Seniors Carlos Sampson and Sidney Muth have fun working with each other. 6. Juniors Margaret Coffman and Cindy Harrington, and sophomores Julie Anderson and Heather Phelan portray southern belles in the south section.

we can stay
You are one of the sweetest girls
I've ever known. Please, for your own good stay that way!
(school) year has been very fun, well lets put it this way! It has some pretty strange times! I'll remember! There have been think all of my emotions were let out this year. There have been some pretty different people once, for some Dance too!
instance maybe some of that was my fault,
but I'm not going to take all the

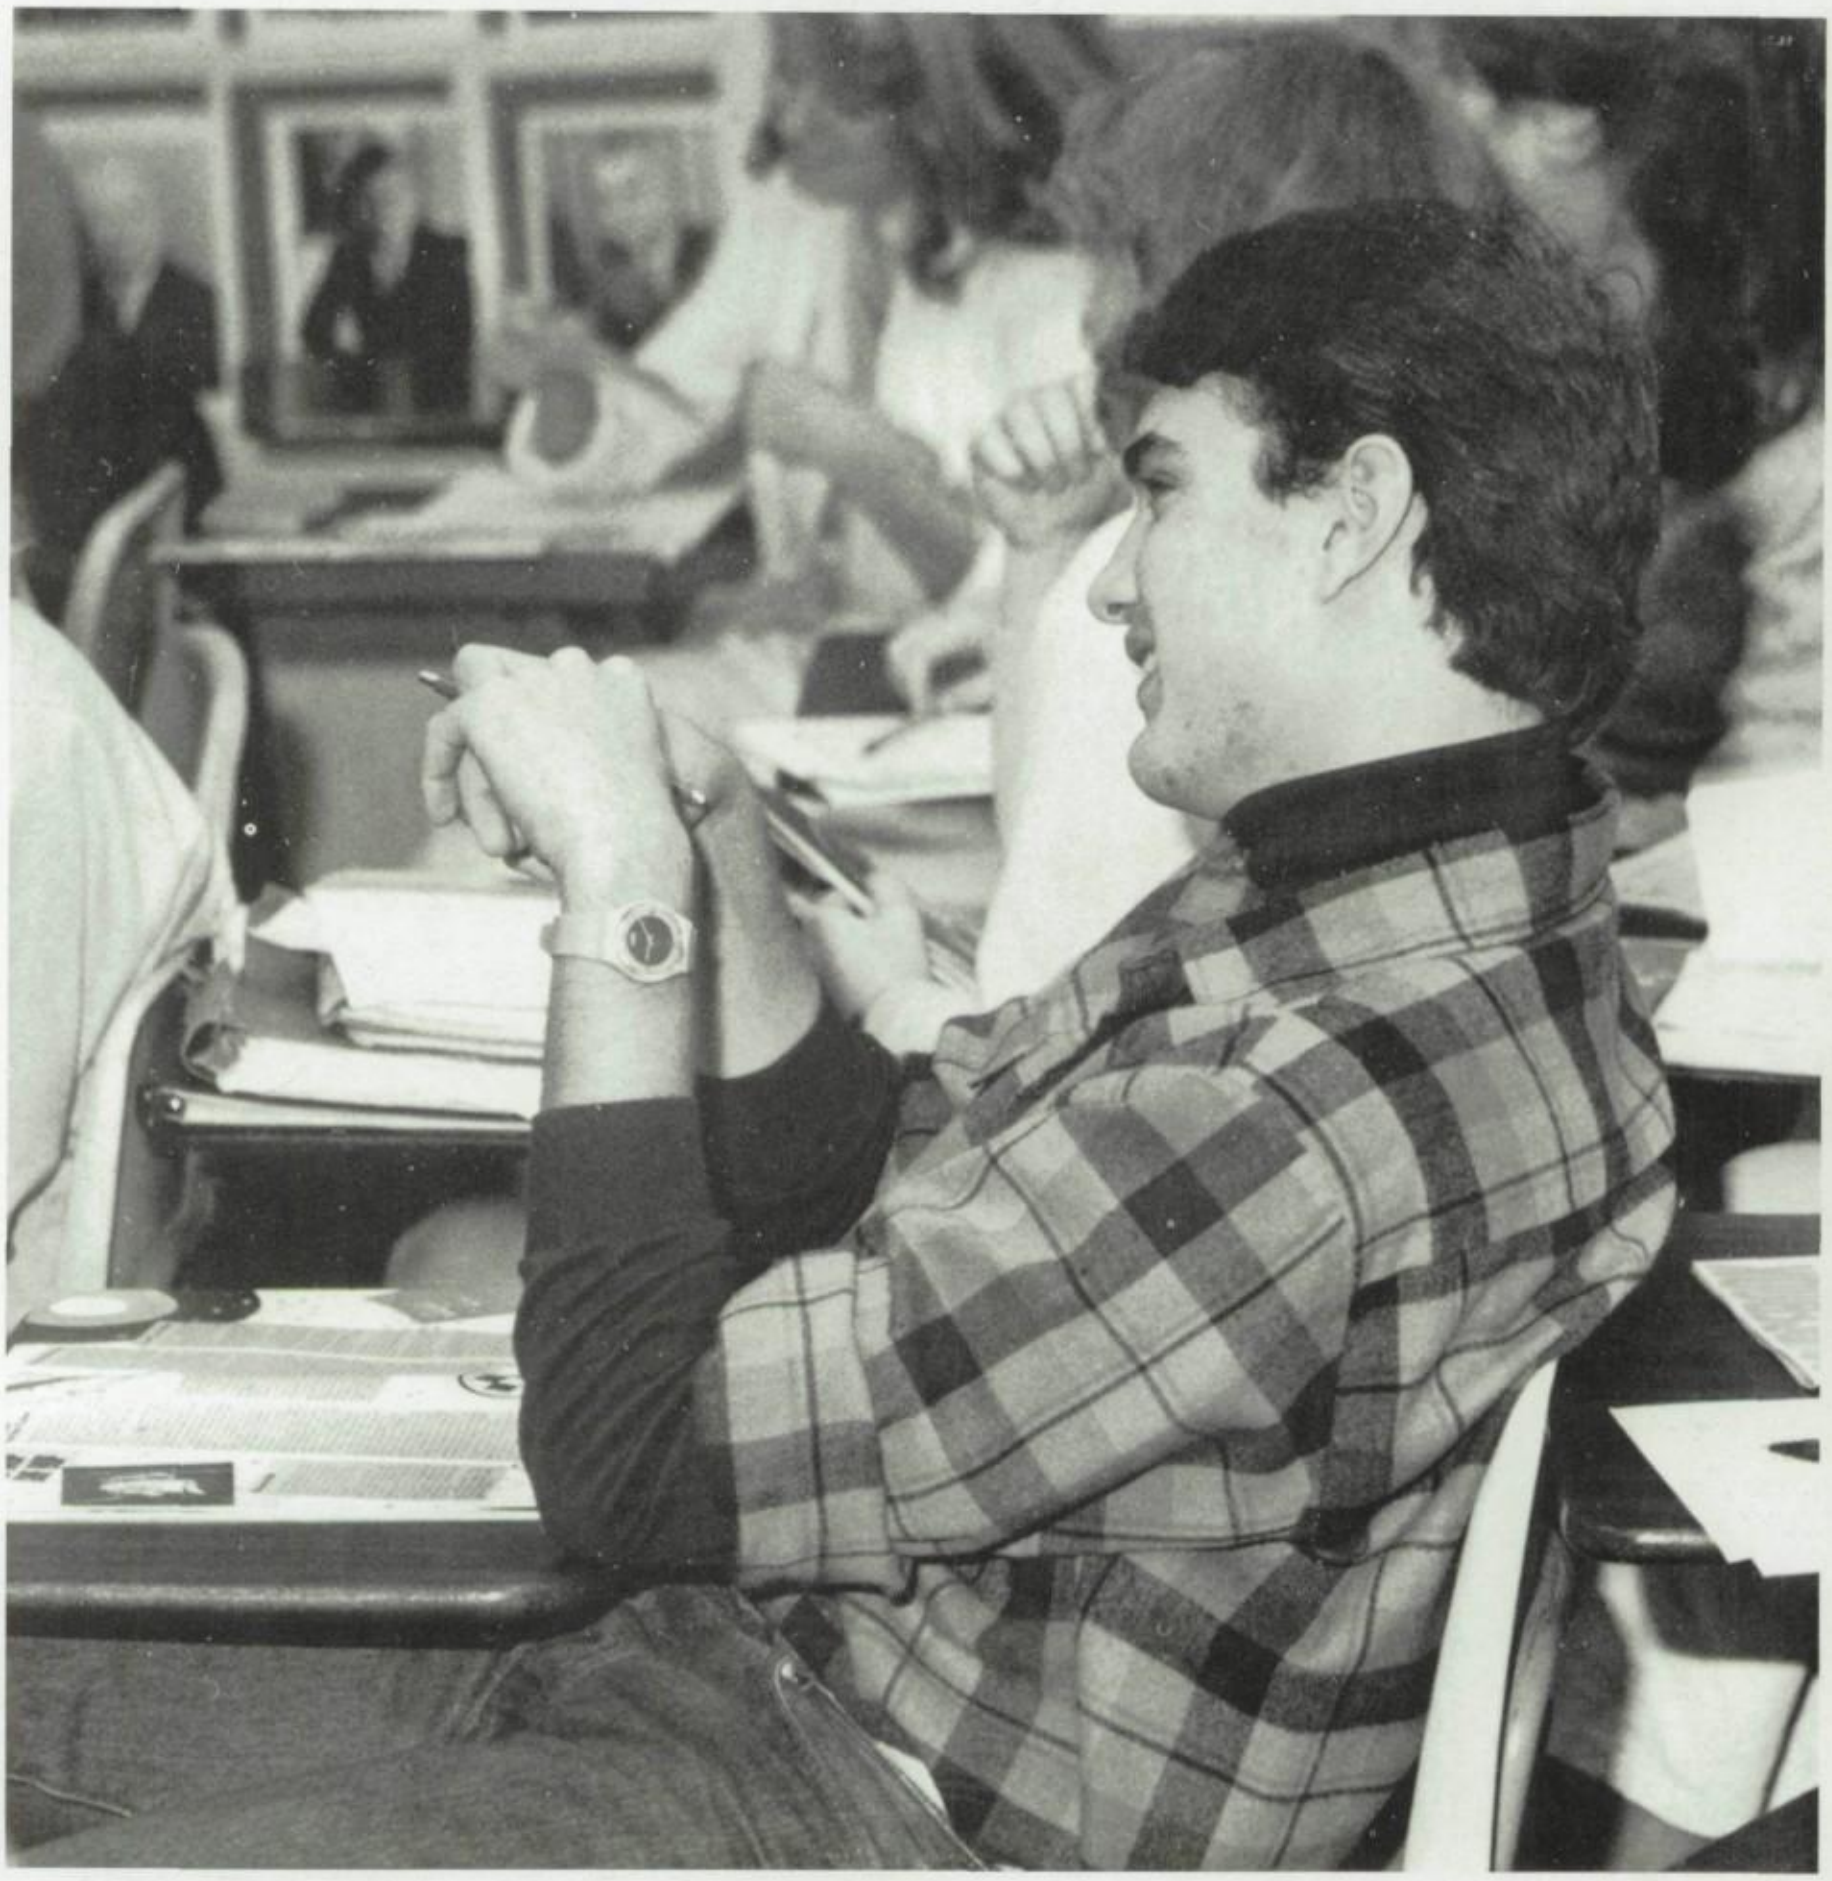
Commitment to Excellence in Academics



Yeck offers opportunity to E.T.'s culturally different.

A very unique class was offered at El Toro called Cultural Differences. The class was led by Mr. Yeck and it consisted of students from Iran, Beruit, Taiwan, Japan, Mexico, Lebanon, Romania, and Israel. The class involved all grade levels with the combination of Freshmen and Sophomores. These students studied World Cultures with Mrs. Brummell in the library. The Juniors and Seniors used their class time studying U.S. History and Civics with Mr. Yeck. This class hoped to create a non-threatening atmosphere for the students. It had the advantage of a smaller class size, of about twenty students, because more one on one situations were needed. The students pulled together and helped one another like a small community.

Honors and A.P. classes present challenges to many

A class that was academically challenging and had weighted grades was considered to be an Honors class. There were four main areas of Honors classes. In the English department there were four levels of classes. English Honors I had to do with the study of Genres. Within the class, they studied classical types of literature: epic poems, Shakespearean plays, novels, and short stories. The Survey of British Literature, or English Honors II, went more into depth compared to a regular British Literature class. Survey of American Literature, or Honors III also went into more depth, as a honors class should, but they also read poems and novels such as Huckleberry Finn. The last of the Honors English classes was Honors IV, Survey of World Literature. This was the highest level and is considered an Advanced Placement class. This class gave a student college credit if he scored well on the test.

In the 200 building there was Honors Chemistry taught by Mr. Randy Kent. The main purposes of the class are to prepare a student for a science major in a four year university and also to prepare those students who might want to take the Advanced Placement Exam in May for college credit.

In the 500 building there was Honors Civics and Honors Economics. Civics taught by Mr. Bill Rollins had a lot of class participation, and the students got involved with activities such as campaigns and volunteer work. The students were either Gate students of had teacher permission to be in the class. Honors Economics, taught by Mrs. Diana Doalson, was similar to Honors Civics, as it has a lot to do with student participation. Simulations and oral presentations were the major activities of the class.

In the Math department where Mrs. Diane Hockersmith taught Honors Geometry, they had two main assignments. One which involves writing a term paper, and the other as doing a project. Along with those assignments, the honors classes went more thoroughly into individual Geometry topics. A lot of the time was spent in groups and they were graded based on the work done by the group as a whole. In addition, they had individual assignments which were graded separately.

El Toro C.T.B.S. scores up substantially from past years.

Over the past three years, the test scores have increased a substantial amount. In reference to the C.T.B.S. or the California Test of Basic Skills, there has been a tremendous 2.2 increase. From 1978-79 the scores rose a great .89 grade level higher than the year before. An example of this would be taking the test at a 10.7 level and scoring at an 11.5 grade level. In 1983-84 the Freshmen scored 3.0 grade levels above what they were the previous year. They were at a 9.6 grade level and after they took the test, they had scored at a terrific 12.6 grade level. The reasons for the test scores improving as much as they have is because the community, over the past five years, has changed explains Mr. Don Walker. It seems the schools are getting students from homes with more college awareness. Also, the parents motivate the students to do well. In addition, the emphasis on basic skills in the elementary schools has really improved.

Special opportunity classes offer a different approach

There were two types of Special Education classes on campus. They were taught by Ms. MaryAnn Farreli, Mr. Bob Crist, and Mr. John Johansen. Ms. Sue Ewart and Ms. Monica Lamy were assistants.

There were two resource classes and two special day classes. The classes helped the students with a variety of skills. These skills included academics, reading, comprehension, organizational, and writing.

Students could attend the classes from one to three periods each day, depending on how much help they needed. Students received extra help so that they could eventually return to regular classes.

Period 5 was used for English, and period 6 was used for math, so the whole class was included during these two periods. The classes were no larger than 14 or 15 people.

4 seniors qualify as P.S.A.T. semi-finalists based on test

Every year at El Toro High School students have taken what is called the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (P.S.A.T.). Their main motive for taking the P.S.A.T. was to help prepare themselves for the S.A.T. The students were tested in three major areas. First, they were tested in mathematics. Algebra, Geometry, and introductory calculus material were seen on the test. Secondly, the students were tested in the verbal area. This included grammar, spelling, vocabulary, etc. Lastly, the students' skills were tested in the area of Selection Index, which was basically a reading-type test. At El Toro, students have been known each year for their laudable scores. This year several students were commended. They ranked in the top 2% of the nation. Also, there were four semifinalists from El Toro who ranked in the top .5% of the nation. The students who deserved honorable mention for their excellence in scoring were Sang Kim, John Moynihan, John Sarrao, and Beth St. John. Those to be commended were Vickie Langohr, Ingrid Linclon, Grace Liu, Jim Swenson, and Lynn Whitman.

A wide variety of classes gives students an incentive

For many years, El Toro High School has offered a wide variety of educational classes that have also been enjoyable. Students have had the opportunity to have fun while taking beneficial courses. Academic achievement has long been the goal at El Toro. Good grades were always the key to the future. Almost every student had English, math, science, foreign language, social studies and special classes called electives. Electives gave students an incentive to go to school and learn. They allowed students to have a break from some of the more difficult required classes, and relax and do something they enjoyed. Many of the electives were very helpful for the future too such as computer literacy, accounting, typing, foods, psychology, etc. Also, with the 2.0 G.P.A. eligibility rule being enforced last year, students were forced to push harder for their goal. Over all, El Toro High School came out acedemically victorious.

O.C.A.D. team finishes seventh out of fifty-three O.C. schools

For several years, El Toro High School has been conducting an O.C.A.D. class. This was a class where students prepared themselves for the actual contest. The event was called the Orange County Academic Decathlon. Here, schools competed against each other academically in a team effort, as well as individually. There were six contestants from either 11th or 12th grade from each school. As individuals, they competed in the areas of economics, fine arts, language, literature, mathematics, science, social science, essay writing, interview, and speech. The program also consisted of something called a "Super Quiz." This year's super quiz topic was the Olympics. Over all, El Toro came in seventh place out of fifty-three schools and each participant from El Toro ended up with at least one medal. The six students who participated this year were Sang Kim, Vickie Langhor, Beth St. John, Beth Oswald, Lisa Cohen and Jim Lee. These students did an outstanding job and were recognized as being far above average academically.

Commitment to Excellence in Athletics

Varsity makes it to playoffs for seventh year in a row

Once again the varsity football team won the League Championship in the toughest game of the season against Capo Valley. In doing so, they qualified for C.I.F. and reached the semi-finals, where their winning streak was broken by El Modena. The game was well played, and coach Bob Johnson was more than satisfied with the team's performance that night, as well as during the entire season. He felt that besides the team's ability, they also had a great sense of pride, spirit, and sportsmanship. When combined, these factors made up a team that would influence and encourage future teams.

Leading the team, in success, were the two captains Mike Gagne and Eric Salazar. The award for Most Valuable Player went to Tim McLain. Most Valuable Offensive and Defensive Linemen were Chuck Kunsaitis and John Montoya, and the Most Valuable Back was John Jungkeit. Eric Keifer and Scot Sanders received Coaches Awards and the special team's player of the year was the kicker, Steve Williams. Finally, Brett McCarthy, one of the most enthusiastic players on the team, was given the Mad Dog title.

Coaches Marty Spalding, John Johansen, Jerry Jarrett, and Bill Whipple were a big part of the team's success and they were referred to as Coach Johnson's "right arm."

Bosanko's sophomore team has an undefeated season

Coach Bosanko met his goal for an undefeated season and the league championship.

The sophomore team was lead by captains Pete Young and Chris Braman. The most outstanding players for the year were Darrin Sweazy, Scott Spaulding, John Barron and Shane Brisbin. The most enthusiastic players were John Barron, Steve Legome and Davin Jackson.

For the sophomores, Mission Viejo was their toughest opponent. El Toro defeated them 19 to 14. Bosanko said, "This is the best football team I might ever coach." Bosanko feels his team players are in search of excellence for themselves and each other. They all had a great sense of pride.

The freshman football team defeated toughest opponent

"Webber and Nita were the most outstanding coaches ever," said the freshman football coach, Mr. Joyce, about the assistant coaches.

The Most Valuable Player was Craig Pyatt. The Most Valuable Back was Brett Johnson and the Most Valuable Lineman was Jason Steele. Tim Jurkowski and Rob Shankle received the Coach's Award.

This year's toughest opponent for the freshman team was Capistrano Valley. They defeated them with a score of 16-14. It was 14-0 with Capo leading at halftime, then El Toro took charge and defeated them in the last two minutes of the game. Their overall season ended with only one loss and a league championship.

Varsity water polo qualifies for C.I.F.; reaches semifinals

Being in a new league promoted few problems for this year's varsity water polo team. After a 19 game win to 8 loss season, they moved on to League Championships where they won; losing only one game. Here they automatically qualified for C.I.F.. However, due to the absense of some of their players, their success ended at the semi-finals. Moving up from the frosh-soph and J.V. levels for C.I.F. finals were four players, Rob Ames, Matt Petrash, John Coffey and Dean Halstead. All four were examples of the large amount of improvement in this year's team.

The team captains for the season were Eric Hone, Keith Shore, and Frank Beebe. The most valuable player was Dave Knox. Keith Shore was again awarded for most inspirational and Denny Bethke was credited as most improved. The coaches award went to Brian Berneking. Coach Don Stoll felt that the whole team played very well. They were hard working and had the ability to perform well as a team. "I'm very proud of this team — from start to finish they were the most improved team I have ever coached."

Coaches recruit almost all new players for J.V. team

The majority of this year's j.v. water polo team consisted of new members. The team was a combination of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. Although there were many members, the team worked well together and had a successful season.

The team won the League Championship by winning all six of their games. Besides the coaching by Don Stoll and Jeff Grosse, Chris Hone a former graduate, spent much of the season coaching the players to victory.

The seven starters for the team were all juniors, including the goalies Jon Coffey and Rob Blenkinsop. Coffey's performance as goalie and as an experienced player gave him the honor of being Most Valuable Player. The Most Improved player was Ragnar Agnell, and the Most Inspirational was Matt Petrash.

Frosh-Soph water polo is 6-0 as league champions

This year's frosh-soph water polo team had a much improved season. For one, the majority of the team consisted of players that moved up from J.V. Another advantage was the new South Coast League, which they felt was easier. They proved this by winning all six games to receive the League Championships. This was the first year that varsity, j.v., and frosh-soph all won League. Another factor of their improvement was the amount of time spent practicing. Twice a day, everyday, they practiced, with the hours averaging about five a day. The coaching staff was a big part of the team's performance. The coaches included Don Stoll, Jeff Grosse, and a graduate from last year, Chris Hone.

Awards for the season included Most Valuable Player — Rob Ames; Most Improved — Dustin Shaver; and Most Inspirational — Rick Reineohl.

The junior varsity cross-country team consisted of five runners, Rich Samaniego, Mark Morgan, Pat Farley, Dave Gustafson, and Bill Picht. They were all determined to do their best, and finished a fine season.

The Most Enthusiastic Award went to Pat Farley, and the Junior Varsity Coach's Award went to Dave Gustafson. Said runner Bill Picht, "It's always difficult with only five members, anytime someone was ill, we had to forfeit. We ran well enough to win against Capo Valley and Laguna Hills, but had to forfeit. We defeated San Clemente and ran extremely well at league finals."

Freshman Cross-Country win League Championship

This year's freshman cross-country team won the League Championship and had a really good season.

The most valuable freshman was Eric Speaker, the most improved was Jim Cravotta, and the coaches award went to Kirk Hess. Mr. Mike Waddell said, "This freshman team has both talent and the numbers for an excellent year." The overall score for the season was Coached by Tom McCaffery, they placed high in all of their invitationals which were held on Saturdays. Dana Hills was their toughest opponent and came close to victory.

Each day the freshman runners had demanding workouts from 2:00-4:00, running from three to six miles.

South Coach League poses competition for freshmen

The Freshman Basketball team, coached by Mr. Bill Whipple was undefeated in the league. The overall score for the year was twelve wins and one loss. They won the Fountain Valley Tournament and beat both of their toughest opponents, Mission Viejo and Capo Valley.

The overall outstanding players were Bret Johnson, Mike Van Riette, Jason Steele, Eric Speaker, Bobby Gaskins and Tim Jurkowski.

Coach Bill Whipple said that he felt his team was hard working and did consistently well. They were also able to adjust to various situations.

Coach Schmalback coaches sophomore team very well

This year's Sophomore basketball team had a new coach. Even so, the Sophomore team adjusted well to his ways of coaching and had a good year. Mac Powell felt that the new South Coast League was a little tougher this year. Their goal for the year was to get a high percentage of wins and they managed to go beyond their goal. The team practiced Monday through Friday for three hours.

Some of the most outstanding players were Mac Powell, Ross Hopingarnar, Mike Cobb, and Frank Perez. After considering the fact that they had a new coach, the team did very well.

Junior Varsity Basketball led by coach Schroeder

This year's Junior Varsity basketball team was rated 4th in league. Their overall score for the year was 12 wins and 10 losses. Their toughest opponents were Mission Viejo and Capo Valley. Even though they were defeated they were only trailing by two or three points.

Some of the most outstanding players were Rick Tobey, who was the leading scorer, Brian Jacobson, who was the leading rebounder, and Steve Cutrell, who was the most improved player. Coach Schroeder said, "I was pleased with their progress and their improvements. I enjoyed working with them." Overall the Junior Varsity team did very well.

The varsity basketball team makes South Coast playoffs

The Varsity Basketball team led a very successful season as it made it to CIF playoffs. They were five and five in the League. They were fourth in the tournament held in Carson City, Nevada. At a tournament in Irvine, they reached fifth place in the semi-finals. The team's overall record for the year consisted of ten wins and twelve losses.

Scott Shockey received First in League and Tim McLain received the Most Honorable Mention. The majority of the Varsity team consisted of Seniors, but included juniors Jeff Stone and Bob Bame, and freshman Bret Johnson. The returning lettermen were Chuck Kunsaitis, Tim McLain, Scott Shockey and Jeff Stone.

Coach Tim Travers said, "The team has done an excellent job playing together as a team and they have worked very hard." The team made a conscious effort in committing itself to excellence in the sport of basketball.

Varsity wrestling travels, once again, to Carson City

After a season of 10 wins to 3 losses, the Varsity Wrestling team moved on to take the League Championship. In doing so, they qualified for C.I.F. where Jim Kingsmill and Mike Gonzales each received third place awards. Bob Frick also achieved a sixth place award. These victories along with those of the J.V. and Frosh-Soph levels made Coach Webber very happy. Overall, he felt that the South Coast League was harder and more competitive and that all the teams and coaches were better. He also felt that the year's wrestling programs were improved. Of the new league, Irvine was their toughest opponent who they still beat, 31 to 28.

The team awards for the season included the following: Most Valuable Player — Jim Kingsmill; Ironman — Jim Kingsmill; Captains — Bob Frick and Jim Kingsmill; Most Improved Fred Spalding; Most Inspirational — Lee Porritt; and Coaches Award — Chris Matthews.

Varsity Soccer tries hard in the South Coast League

The Varsity Soccer team competed well in the tough South Coast League. The team was inexperienced because three-quarters of the squad was lost either to graduation or ineligibility.

Underclassmen made up the majority of the team, including sophomore goalie Derek Duncan. Other outstanding players were seniors Sean Camu, Steve Williams, Frank Beebe, Andy Lord, and Andy Andrews.

"We gained a lot of experience throughout the year and toward the end of the season. We played together as a team," commented Andy Lord.

The team was coached by Mr. Foad Naderzad and practiced daily from 2:00 to 4:30 p.m.

Bailey and Thaut capture soccer excellence awards

The Frosh-Soph soccer team faired well in the South Coast League. The team considered it to be a challenging and rewarding change from the Sea View League. The team's overall record was one win, two losses and three ties. The Frosh-Soph team was frustrated due to the fact that various high schools did not have Frosh-Soph soccer teams.

The Most Valuable Player was Brendan Bailey and the Coach's Award went to Lance Thaut.

The team practiced every day after school on El Toro's field.

Varsity Volleyball competes successfully in new league

The 1985 Varsity Volleyball team, coached by Mr. Mike Jagd, had some tough competition in the South Coast League. The league consisted of schools from Capistrano Valley, Dana Hills, Laguna Hills, San Clemente, Mission Viejo, and El Toro. This league had been formed because these teams had always placed in the their separate leagues.

Now, all being put together, El Toro had its work cut out for them. They opened pre-season with two wins.

The team had three returning players — Chris Dwyer, Bryan Leipper and Jason McVey; and four players moved up from last year's junior varsity team — Mike Cleugh, Pat Knopf, Kelly Wood and Chris Diener.

The Charger volleyball team hopes to succeed in this league and possibly advance themselves into CIF playoffs, but will have to play every game with great strength and concentration to bring this to a reality.

J.V. Volleyball starts out competitive in pre-season

Although most of last year's junior varsity team moved up to varsity, the 1985 J.V. volleyball team was confident that they would have a running season. The team concentrated on building skills so that they may be prepared for the challenges to come. In past years the team lacked experience, but now they have high quality athletes with a tremendous amount of dedication to their sport.

In their pre-season play, the J.V. team competed in tournaments and made a strong appearance and succeeded in placing in a few. The team was coached by Mike Jagd.

Varsity Swim successful in new South Coast League

The Varsity Swim team had a successful season. Outstanding returning players included Mark Yakota, Dan Novinski, Joel Bussard, Dean Halstead, Bart Meltzer, Dave Knox, Kenny Tse, and Denny Bethke. New team member Ragner Agnell, Swedish foreign exchange student, contributed to the team's success.

Coached by Mr. Jeff Grosse and Mr. Don Stoll, the team placed second in the Fountain Valley Relays, and won the Edison and Irvine meets.

"Dan Novinski and Mark Yokota were All-Americans (top 30 in the nation) last year. We are shooting for second behind Mission in League, and for CIF," said Coach Jeff Grosse.

"We are looking forward to an awesome year. We are hoping to be the first team to beat the national champions Mission Viejo," stated Rob Spooner.

The team practiced at El Toro's pool 6:15 to 7:30 every morning and 2:15 to 4:30 each afternoon. Workouts included weight training as well as water practice.

Frosh-Soph swimming takes second place in CIF relays

The Frosh-Soph Swim team was very successful in the new South Coast League. The winning combination of new and returning players contributed greatly to the team's success. Outstanding returning swimmers included Bruce Berkley, and Mike Scott. Outstanding new swimmers included Scott Craycraft, Nate Kinney, and Dustin Shaver.

The enthusiasm and coaching techniques of Mr. Don Stoll and Mr. Jeff Grosse encouraged the team to many victories. The team emerged victorious in the meet vs. Edison, and placed second in CIF relays.

Coach Jeff Grosse stated, "We have very good younger swimmers, some may swim and letter varsity."

An enthusiastic Brian Liddy said, "The new league will bring us tough competition, but this won't hurt our chances for a league title."

The team practiced at El Toro's pool every day, 6:15 to 7:30 mornings and 2:15 to 4:30 afternoons.

1. Head Coach Dickey leads Boys' Varsity Track team

The Varsity boys finished the season with many successful meets. The ineligibility rule hurt the team since the athletes were unable to participate. The team worked out daily from 2:00-5:00. Team member Eric Thieroff said, "I think that this year's Varsity track team has the most talent in several years, but we lack depth." Although the team was basically young and inexperienced, there were some very good individuals. Todd Sinclair and Eric Thieroff led the sprinters, and Jason Harwood dominated the hurdles. Ken McFadden, John Sarrao, and Mark Weston paced the distance runners. The field events were led by Lance Eagen, Sam Svitenko, Tim Warner, and Chris Westerman. Said Lance Eagen, "I feel I have a lot of enthusiasm because of Coach Dickey's encouragement."

Varsity makes it big for '85 out on E.T. tennis courts

This year's Varsity tennis team was coached by Mr. Al Jones. Returning players to Varsity were Scott Schimdt, Tim Houston, Jeff Casey, James Markert, Oscar Le and Jeff Diamond. Players who made outstanding contributions this year were Schimdt, Casey, Houston and Le. Varsity's initial goal for 1985 was to place among the top three teams in the South Coast League, enabling them to qualify for CIF. As the season progressed, however, the team decided to shoot for the victory in CIF. The Varsity team was really pulling their efforts together to try and bring home the CIF win to El Toro.

Junior Varsity Tennis has successful season in league

Mr. Tim Travers coached the Junior Varsity as well as the Frosh-Soph tennis teams. This year's J.V. was one of the youngest El Toro has had. The only returning player to the team was sophomore David Culbertson. Some of the other team members were Asano, Speaker, Hudson, Turnbull, Mosh, Vo, Dallin, Servais, and Achak. J.V.'s aim for this year was to improve its record, and that's just what they did. At the beginning of the season their record was much better than last year's and they had hopes to win the South Coast League Championship.

Coach helps girls' volleyball get through the new league

With only a few weeks of practice before season, the girls' varsity volleyball team finished fifth in the South Coast League. With the help of their new coach Ms. Cindy Pumell, the team ended with a record of 3-9. They had no returning starters and only five returning varsity players. Ayelet Selinger said, "The team was young, and inexperienced, but had a lot of potential."

Leading the squad of six seniors, four juniors, and one sophomore were the captains Kim Martin and Selinger. The team did very well in the Los Amigos Tournament taking second place out of thirty teams.

The team had its toughest match against Irvine and played its best match against Mission Viejo with scores of 15-6; 11-15; 13-15; 15-13; 4-15.

Susan Czinczoll got the Most Valuable Players Award, and Ashley Lowe got Most Improved. Most Spirited was awarded to Ayelet Selinger with help from Danielle Austin. Kim Martin and Kathy Nickel said, "The team will be awesome next year."

New coach brings J.V. girls team to higher level of play

"J.V. started out slow, but with the help of our new coach, Mr. Jagd, we started improving game by game." said Danielle Doll. The J.V. volleyball team placed fourth in the South Coast League with a record of 7-7. The group had their toughest match against Mission Viejo with scores of 15-8; 13-15; 15-12.

With their enthusiasm and consistency, Tanya McKinley and Kerry Stookey helped the squad get through the season. Along with varsity, the J.V. volleyball team practiced everyday after school at 3:00 in the gym. Through conditioning and skills, the girls still found time to have fun during practice.

While the team placed fourth, Elisha Back made all Tournament Team in the Los Amigos Tournament. Kristy Engelke said, "We are improving and will be very good next year."

The girls voted Jenny Zahedi as Most Inspirational, and Stookey and McKinkey as Most Valuable. Mr. Jadg gave the Coaches award to Back.

Cross-Country team wins J.V. League Championship

The first race of the year was at the Woodbridge Invitational, in Irvine, where twenty schools participated. After seeing the girls run, the talent was obvious. I knew they would win the league title", said Coach Diane Hale. The team did just that, finishing the season with a 6-0 record, and capturing the League Championship. "It was hard work running from five to seven miles a day, but I think it was worth it," said J.V. runner Jennifer Dix. The coaches changed the course from two miles to three and moved it to O'Neill Park. This home course is the hardest in the South Coast League. The team was led by Most Valuable Runner Julie Schebeck, and Most Improved Dee Hansen. The efforts of Cindi Murphy and Pam Worcester contributed to the team's success also.

V. Tennis reaches goal of qualifying first round C.I.F.

At the beginning of the season the Varsity Tennis team set a goal to qualify as a team for C.I.F. post season competition. This is something the team had never done. Some of the players started early by attending a tennis camp held at school.

When school started the team worked out from 2:00-5:00 daily. "The team worked out long hours in hot weather. I don't think I heard a single complaint" said coach Mr. Al Jones.

At the end of the season the team reached its goal with a record of 8-4 placing second in the South Coast League. They competed in the first round of C.I.F. against Laguna Beach but lost.

The squad was lead by doubles partners Robyn Cambell and Stephanie Dearinger, who both received the Most Valuable award. Most Improved was Andrea MacLeod and the Coaches Award went to Lisa Cass.

"We all played well thanks to the help of the Varsity boys and our coaches" said Cheryl Focht.

J.V. tennis places third in new South Coast League

With Mrs. Webber coaching them, the J.V. tennis team finished the South Coast League with a record of 6-6. Achieving their goal, the squad took third place. The team consisted of a lot of freshmen and had a great building season this year.

Laura Sprague was an excellent singles player while Stacy Linas and Lee Anne Moreno were strong doubles players. The teams hardest competition was Capo Valley.

The J.V. tennis team practiced at El Toro every day after school. They also played many weeks before school started in a summer camp.

Mrs. Webber said that the team improved greatly on their skills. She also said that she could not just pick out only one player that was the most spirited; the whole team contributed.

Girls' J.V. Basketball takes second place in league

The junior varsity basketball team ended the season with a second place finish in the South Coast League. The team's record was 9-3. Success did not come easy. They started practices and games in summer clinics that met five days a week.

The preseason was a good sign of things to come. Finishing first for the second year in a row in the Garden Grove Tournament, the team beat Mission Viejo by a score of 36-35.

Freshman Andrea Young and Lori Halliday were chosen by the team as co-captains. They also led the team in scoring, rebounds and assists.

Because of the age of the team, good things are expected in the years to come.

First place finish for girls' basketball team in new league.

The girls' Varsity Basketball team experienced an exciting season. The girls came together and worked as a team to capture the South Coast League Title. Coached by Paul Biedler, the team earned a victory against cross town rival Mission Viejo High School with a score of 67-42. "We had such a strong team that no one individual stands out, in my mind, as leading the team to victory."

The team's captains were Senior Vickie Mallet and Junior Jennifer Vecke. Mallet also lead the team in scoring with an average of 20 points a game.

"Hard work and working together as a whole really paid off when we finished in first place," said Senior Pam Sawyer.

With seven members of the team returning for the next season, they expect to be even better in the years to come.

Girls' Varsity Soccer Team goes all the way to CIF

The Girls' Varsity Soccer Team made it to the CIF finals with the help from their coach Bob Chavez. Entering CIF as a wild card, El Toro eliminated West Torrance, third seed in CIF, and Torrance, the former champs. The team, happy to make it as far as they did, took second place in the final game losing to Clarmont, the second seed in CIF.

With the support from their captains, Daphne Schaffer and Kim Carlander, the team had a very successful season. They finished the first half with only one loss and ended the season in third place with a record of 17-6-2. The leading scorers of the team were Carlander and Kim Doleman, while at the other end of the field, goalie Tina Stirling let few balls get past her.

The squad consisted of two seniors, five juniors, seven sophomores, and four freshmen. The bench was very supportive and individual Cindy Mortin was extremely dedicated.

New coach helps girls' JV team get through the league

The Girls' JV Soccer Team was young this year with many freshmen and sophomores. The girls really enjoyed their new coach Jim Zenor. The team had a fun and constructive year. Led by two seniors, captains Laura Conway and Keri Johnson, the team had their best game against Mission Viejo, losing by one point.

Although many girls got hurt, the squad finished out the season with enthusiasm. Supportive players like Lisa Lotitto and Johnson were appreciated by the team. The strong players were Lisa Holtzer and goalie Shawn Gallagher. The team is looking forward to a great season next year.

J.V. Softball plans for an excellent season in league

Coach Greg Yeck of Junior Varsity Softball, suspected he had a lot of potential for the team. Although the team is very young they had all the talent they needed to compete in the new South Coast League. The team consisted of nine freshmen and three sophomores who all worked extremely hard for a competitive season. The returning players were sophomores Claudia Sandino and Tanya McKinley. The new J.V. players were Elaine Youngs, Regina Barts, Patty Skidmore, Kelly Coleman, Andrea Young, Kristi Engelke, Robyn Watkins, Shelly Witt and Christi Melville. Their tuffest competitors were suspected to be Mission Viejo and Laguna Hills. Although Coach Yeck's confidence still held strong.

Varsity Softball works hard in new South Coast League

Varsity softball consisted of four seniors, eight juniors and two sophomores. Returning players were infielders Lisa Tamillo, Patty Forrest, Karen Robertson, Vicki Mallot, and Dawn Robertson. The other two returning players were outfielders Laura Turnbow and Pam Sawyer. New talent that moved up from the junior Varsity team included Kristin Farrell, Sean Gallager, Daphne Schaffer, and Gina Giardini. They faced more competition in the new South Coast League. Laguna Hills and Mission Viejo were expected to be their toughest competition within the new league. Thanks to Coach Beidler the team was able to compete in two tournaments, one of which was a double elimination process and gave the girls extra practice before starting league. The other was the Woodbridge tournament which lasted three consecutive days out of the week. Coach Paul Beidler saw the talent and helped the girls with a competitive season.

Swim team has potential for new league and season

Even with the loss of three senior swimmers last year, the team is again first rate. Due to the outstanding efforts of new Varsity team members Michele Lutterloh, Courtney Moynihan, and Margaret Coffman and returning members Tara Kreidman, Pam Pyykko, Janet Popp, Lesley Wong, Yumi Yokta and Andrea Hackett, the team is hoping for a first place finish in league.

Morning and afternoon workouts for a total of five hours a day further developed the team's talent.

A goal to win as many meets as possible and to individually lower their times as the season goes on was set.

"We lost some good swimmers last year, but with new and old swimmers, we have kept the spirit and talent going," said sophomore Leslie Wong.

New and returning swim for Stoll and Frosh-Soph

Coached by Mr. Don Stoll and Ms. Kim Philpot, the Frosh-Soph girls swim team looked forward to another excellent season.

Outstanding swimmers were Erica Jordening, Maren Young, and Angela Detrick. All were Sophomores and returning swimmers. Patti Zittrer, a Freshman also had an excellent year.

Competing in the South Coast League, the team's season goal was to place, at the very least, second. They expected their toughest competition to come from Mission Viejo, Irvine, and Capo Valley. Coach Philpott said, "It's a tough goal, but they're a good group of girls, and if we work hard we can do it." Sophomore Kelly Olen enthused that "There's a lot of nice people in the program and we've got some really fast Freshmen swimming for us."

The team displayed their determination at morning workouts from 6:15 to 7:00, and from 2:00 to 4:45 in the afternoon.

Junior Varsity Swimming competes very successfully

The Junior Varsity swimmers anticipates yet another outstanding season. The J.V. co-ed, with Mr. Don Stoll coaching the boys and Mrs. Sheri Ross coaching the girls.

Valuable swimmers on the team were Lisa Cohen, Missy Marchion, Ann Ashby, and Lisa Yasis, as well as John Dennis and John Bartz.

Because there is no specific Junior Varsity division within the South Coast league, the swimmers line-up changes weekly as some move to Frosh-Soph or moved up to Varsity for various meets. Ann Ashby said, "Some times Coach Stoll is tough, but we know it is for our own good," with a smile she added, "but he's lovable."

The J.V. swimmers had workouts from 6:15-7:00 a.m. and from 2:00-4:45 in the afternoon.

Varsity Track has a very competitive season

After succeeding in competition in the Sea View League for six consecutive seasons, the 1984-1985 girls' Varsity track team carried on the tradition in the newly formed South Coast League. This year's varsity track was coached by Keith Osborne. They worked hard and strived hard to achieve their goals both as a group, as well as individuals. The team put in a lot of effort and practiced for many hours. They were usually seen practicing right up until light was scarce. There were quite a few returning players this year, for example: Krista Dreher, Chieko Woods, Jennifer Gutke and Shirley Duke. Their hardest, and one of the first opponents was Irvine. They really strived to work as a team, not just as individuals.

J.V. Track does their best against toughest opponent

The girls' Junior Varsity track team was coached by Mr. Keith Osborne. After many years in the Sea View League, the League was changed to South Coast, where they were challenged by new teams. The girls practiced many hours everyday and it showed in their performance. All the members of the team had positive attitudes and worked well together. They all gave their competitors a run for their money. There is a lot of potential in the future varsity team, if members of the junior varsity team continue on. The coach's expectations were high, and the girls were able to meet them all.

Key Club provides service for school and community

Along with Key Club's various activities, community service was a major concern of the organization.

Meals on Wheels was one of the Key Club's most successful service programs. The club provided hot meals to those of the community who were unable to do so for themselves, mainly the elderly confined to their homes.

In the traditional Donkey Basketball Game, the faculty once again triumphed over the Key Club squad. In a collaboration with the Keywanettes, Key Club participated in the March of Dimes Haunted House to raise money for the prevention of birth defects. Key Club also hosted an "Open Gym" where new and old members could learn about the club.

Advisor Mr. Keith Osborn, commented, "El Toro High can be proud of the reputation Key Club members have for being dependable and generous of their time when opportunities arise to be of service."

Key Club met Wednesdays at lunch in the MPR under the leadership of senior President Bill Miller.

Community service plays key role in Keywanette activities

The Keywanette's purpose was to provide school and community service.

During the Halloween season, the club busied itself manning the March of Dime's Haunted House, along with the Key Club. The members helped to raise money for the prevention of birth defects.

Every Wednesday the Keywanettes volunteered their services at the Kiddie Connection, a local nursery school. They also spent time working at the Albert Sitton Home for Abused Children.

In December the Keywanettes helped the Toys for Tots campaign by collecting new toys for underprivileged children.

The club also had many fundraisers during the course of the year, including a fruitcake sale, a candy sale, and a mistletoe sale.

Students learn different customs, cultures, countries

The International Club, advised by Ms. Sally Hotchkiss, English teacher, met every Thursday at lunch in order to learn more about different cultures.

Their main activity was the International Food Fair in which they sold food such as croissants, won ton, egg rolls and and other items, providing a chance for students to buy and sample dishes from all over the world.

Money raised from the Food Fair was used for a trip to Magic Mountain. Other fund raisers included a candy sale and a spring sale of different kinds of makeup items. The ASB also provided funds for their activities.

The International Club traveled to Laguna Beach for a beach picnic at the beginning of the year in order to let new members learn more about the club.

At lunch meetings, members were requested to give presentations about their particular ethnic culture. Different nationalities that were represented in the International Club included Korean, Vietnamese, Japanese, and members from Taiwan, Thailand, and the Phillippines.

German Club lends ethnic touch to many club activities

German Club was an excellent opportunity for students to have fun while learning about the German Culture, regardless of whether or not they studied the language.

Almost all of the clubs activities had German themes. As well as holding their own Oktoberfest, they attended another at Old World in Huntington Beach. They also had a Christmas Party, complete with German carols and food. Soccer, extremely popular in Germany, provided the theme for the club's soccer party. Club members watched German videos at another party, and held an end of the year banquet at a German restaurant, where they tried German dishes and dances, as well as announcing new officers. Another event was a traditional American Valentine's Day party.

The club paid for many of their activities with funds raised from their M&M candy sale.

German Club was led by President Amber Taylor, who said that the club was "a good way for students to learn about the German culture, and have a lot of fun doing it." Also presiding were Vice President Ken Mizushima, Secretary Christina Nusenow, and Treasurer Cecilia Vick. Advising the Club was Jean Jerome, who taught German at the school. The club met Thursdays in room 314.

Armed Forces Club informs members of military events

The Armed Forces Club is designed to teach the students of today about the military and political problems of today and tomorrow. The club does this through presentations, guest speakers, movies, and tours of various military bases and civilian companies. Some of the places that the club has gone to are; Parker Berta — which supplies parts to the NASA, the Boeing company, and to other makers of space and military machinery; Edwards Air Force base — where hi-tech aircraft like the B-1 bomber, F-16, and other planes were toured; an the El Toro Marine Base — which is the command center for the forces of most of the West Coast. Other extracurricular activities of the Club include annual Risk tournaments, sports competition days, model rocket launching days, and many other things. The Club is advised by Mr. Waddell and holds meetings Monday during lunch in room 804. Officers this year are — Director — Andrei Perumal, Head of the Army and Secretary — Peter Young, Head of the Air Force and Co-Secretary — Jeff Hamann, Head of the Marines — Robert Storms

Club members collect items for fun, investment, and profit

Members of the Collector's Club had interests ranging from comic books to baseball cards, as well as many other types of memorabilia.

During club meetings, club members had many opportunities to learn about their hobby. On Presentation Days, collections could be brought in for exhibition and discussion. Items could be traded on weekly Trading Days. Various collectibles such as stamps and prints were often won by members in drawings. About twice a month, the club made trips to exhibitions in the area. A baseball card show in Fullerton had the Collector's Club in attendance. Members were also instructed in how to form a collection for investment and profit, and what items were best suited for this purpose.

The club was led by President Scott Odierne, Vice President Joel Guerra, and Secretary Mike Ferrara. Advisors to the club were Chuck Vicker and Mike Forslund, both of the science department. "Everyone has a little of the collector in them," said Mr. Vicker. "It's a part of human nature."

Varsity Cheerleaders show their spirit throughout year

The Varsity Cheerleading squad used their enthusiasm to promote spirit at athletic events, pep rallies and assemblies. The Cheerleaders kept' busy designing the posters that were seen at games and in the quad, besides making cards and desserts for the athletes.

Captain for the year was senior Lori Stroup, Assistant Captain was Erin McAuley.

The squad practiced during the summer and attended the National Spirit Association Camp of Champs in La Jolla. They received four superior plus trophies, an overall superior plus achievement trophy, and a spirit stick. In November, the Cheerleaders competed in the first annual Saddleback College Pep Squad Competition, placing second among other schools in the South Coast and neighboring leagues.

"It is incredible how much responsibility and commitment is demanded by being on El Toro's pep squad. Our school is commited to excellence and we, as pep squad members must fulfill their expectations." stated senior Tracy Mosh.

The Cheerleaders met everyday in room 312 during third period to practice new routines.

Farley's Songleaders show support at school functions

The Varsity Songleaders, under the direction of Captain Kellie Farley and Advisor Ms. Patty Donovan, English teacher, supported all fall and winter season athletic teams and promoted school spirit and pride. They attended all school sponsored activities, performed at pep rallies and assemblies, and hosted many team banquets. The Songleaders were also responsible for making spirit posters, as well as treats and cards for players to wish them luck.

During the summer, the Songleaders attended a camp at UCSD in La Jolla. They won many first place awards including Best Choreography, the ambassador award, and many superior plus trophies. They met everyday during third period in room 313 and after school to choreograph new routines.

"Pep Squad members must be energetic. They are like the athletes who play a sport in every season. All of the groups make a committment to be available and able to give 100% for an entire year, including the summer months," remarked Dovovan.

Prestia leads enthusiastic Jr. Varsity Cheerleaders

The Junior Varsity Cheerleading Squad undertook the responsibility of cheering on Frosh-Soph and Junior Varsity athletics and raising spirit among the underclassmen. They fulfilled this through the year.

To prepare for this task, the squad attended a week long cheerleading camp during the summer. They received a superior plus overall for their efforts, as well as receiving a spirit stick along with the other squads representing El Toro. Also during the year they participated in the Saddleback College Cheerleading Competition. They received a second place trophy for their performance.

Tryouts for J.V. Cheer were held the previous January. Requirements included a written paper on why they want to be a cheerleader, their own cheer, and the cheer that they learned.

In addition, to cheering on various girls' and boys' athletic teams, J.V. Cheer put up spirit banners in the gym and the quad, and baked cookies for the teams on important game days.

"Cheerleading plays an important role in helping our school's athletic teams win because most athletic teams play their best when they know the squads are supporting them and raising the spirit of the whole school," said J.V. Cheerleader Tina Prestia.

'85 Winter Formal held at Costa Mesa Country Club

Girls' League had a busy year planning activities throughout the school year.

One of the largest events they organized was the Winter Formal held at the Costa Mesa Country Club. In connection to the Winter Formal, Girls' League put on the Winter Formal Fashion Show, featuring fashions from Alicia Tux and Angelique's.

The Dating Game, another of Girls' League's innovations, was popular both with students from Mission Viejo High School and El Toro High; the master of ceremonies was Mr. Paul Biedler. At the end of the year, Girls' League held their Spring Fashion Show and Mother/Daughter Tea, at which Girls' League members modeled spring clothes and advisors and old officers were announced, as well as the announcement of new officers for the next year.

To raise money, Girls' League sold candy in the spring, and sold candy grams duing the Christmas season.

The club was advised by Mrs. Sisel-Spalding and co-advisor Mrs. Beck. Student leaders for the club were President Lynn Whitman, Vice President Sandy Kim, Secretaries Valerie Frazee and Nolvia Arnesto, Treasurer Rosalie Chin, Activity Commissioners Michelle Childers and Rupa Appa, Publicity Commissioners Yvonne Polanco and Holly Kusik, and A.S.B. Representative Wendy Roehricht. President Lynn Whitman said that "We're a large club, all trying to be active in planning school activities, and made up of really involved people."

Girls' League met Wednesdays in room 211, to discuss and organize school events.

Clark and Mangan support ETHS student body activities

Juniors Cami Mangan and Angela Clark devoted a lot of time as mascots. Barney the Bull represents the spirit and pride of the student body. Barney appeared at all Varsity football and basketball games as well as volleyball, water polo, soccer, and other sports. He also attended pep rallies and assemblies to promote spirit.

"Having two students elected to be "Barney" allows the mascot to be much more visible. By sharing the responsibility of coverage, the schedule of this year's mascots has been much more flexible," stated Ms. Patty Donovan, Pep Squad advisor.

The girls were picked last spring during the A.S.B. elections, and were required to go through a Pep Squad evaluation which included an original routine, sideline and an oral interview. Although they were part of A.S.B., Mangan and Clark attended Pep Squad camp and met with the Song and Cheerleaders in room 313 during third period. During this class, they planned different ways to increase school spirit and student involvement in activities.

"We have worked hard to create new ideas to achieve high levels of spirit for the school. Being part of the Pep Squad and A.S.B. is an honor and a responsibility we are proud of," commented Mangan.

Peer Facilitators counsel students who have problems

The Peer Facilitators were a group of students who assisted peers with their problems and who provide students with a sympathetic ear.

The class starts out each year with about 40 students who learn to become more proficient in listening and communication skills. It was not a therapy group, but instead tried to help students deal with their problems. Ms. Susan Toibin, English teacher, was one of the founders of Peer Facilitators, which originally was an off-shoot of an anti-drug abuse program. This year the class is being taught by social studies teacher Mrs. Paula Kumer. The Peer Facilitators dealt with all kinds of problems, including family, school, and peer conflicts. Students with transportation traveled to local elementary, and junior high schools in order to counsel younger students.

Club members enjoy art as they learn in new Art Club

The Art Club, a new club on campus, was not only for those with artistic talent, but for anyone with an interest in art.

During club meetings, members discussed upcoming events and projects. The club often attended exhibitions and art galleries in an effort to learn the history of various art forms. Art Club members also learned how to put together a portfolio containing examples of their work which could be sent away to art schools and colleges. One of the club's most popular events was their first annual trip to the Renaissance Fair, to which many of the members wore authentic Renaissance costumes.

To pay for their activities, the Art Club painted murals on store windows during the Christmas season for ten to fifteen dollars a piece. They also planned a spring candy sale.

Advisors to the club were Christi Ellerbroek and Valerie Wood, both art teachers. "Most of all, we want our students and members of this club to get a feeling for art appreciation," said Ms. Ellerbroek. Leading the club was Steve Burke who said that, "An art club is a really good way for kids to get together to have a good time and learn a lot doing it."

Amanecer staff and editors capture the spirit of 1984-85

The Amanecer Staff met each day in room 314 in an effort to put together an outstanding 1984-85 yearbook. The staff was comprised of students with interests lying in the areas of writing, photography, and publishing.

In addition to putting out the yearbook, members also learned the basic publishing process and how to put together a layout.

During the year, the class held several fundraisers to raise money for the yearbook. They had a candy sale in January as well as selling advertising space to local merchants.

The staff was led by Editors Denise Lew, Ann Suh, and Paula Dutton.

"A tremendous amount of effort goes into the production of the yearbook," said Dutton.

Suh said of the staff, "They're hard working and in the end will be rewarded with a really good yearbook."

"People don't realize all of the time and decision making the production of the yearbook calls for," added Editor Denise Lew. Advisor Mike Gallups of the English Department agreed that a lot of dedication and effort went into the yearbook.

Cycling Club plans trips for both the faculty and students

The Cycling Club was a new club on campus whose main purpose was to promote physical development and physical education through cycling.

The club experienced many organizational problems, and during the first semester was only able to schedule two rides. According to advisor Mr. Bill Bailey, English teacher, "I was really pleased with the large turnout on both of our rides."

The Cycling Club's future plans are to organize rides that appeal to the novice rider as well as the experienced rider. Both of the rides taken in the fall were longer than twenty miles in length. "The distance of the two rides may have scared off potential club members just beginning to explore the pleasures of bicycling," remarked Bailey.

Officers for the year were: President Danielle Austin, Vice President Darrin Kavanaugh, Secretary Ken McFadden, and Treasurer Andrei Perumal.

At weekly meetings club members would propose routes for upcoming rides which would generate much debate. "The perfect bicycling route is one that offers both scenery and safety for the club's riders," commented Bailey.

Creative writing goes forth with "Touch Our World"

The Creative Writing Class met with Ms. Caroline McKnight, English teacher, in room 301 to develop and improve different writing skills. Their main goal was to create their own book, "Touch Our World" and submit it to a nationwide contest. Editors for the year were seniors Jim Swenson and Amy Heavey, both veterans of the class.

The year long class was divided into two semesters with the first devoted to prose and the second emphasising poetry. The students were expected to write their own short stories and poems throughout the year using various techniques and writing styles. They were then read to the class to be critiqued. These assignments were submitted to the editors for publication in the book. The writing of "Touch Our World" required hard work and dedication on the part of the students, as well as many extra hours after school and on weekends.

"Creative Writing gives students a chance to expand their knowledge of writing skills and to improve the ones they already have. The book competition is a challenge that's a lot of fun to work towards," said student Tiffany Reinhoel of the class' activities.

The class hoped to raise money for next year's book by selling the finished product at the end of this year. Funds were also provided by the A.S.B. Council treasury. The class also raised money by holding a week long candy sale in the spring.

Jets discover different fields to explore for future

The JETS were a new club on campus that gave students encouragement and motivation to excel in mathematics and in science. The name JETS stands for Junior Engineering Technical Society, a non-profit organization made up of student chapters throughout the United States.

The idea to establish this club was brought about by some of the individuals who graduated from El Toro last year. Since then, the club has had an airplane construction contest, showed a number of technical films, participated in Green-Up Day, and Club Day. The JETS plan to take a trip to Norton Air Force in order to get a closer look at today's technology. In addition, the club is planning participation in a Test of Engineering Aptitude Mathematics and Science or a TEAMS. This is a test offered by JETS in order to test the skills of some of its members.

The club was led by officers President Mark Grisafe, Vice President Kevin Yuhan, Treasurer Bernard Ta, and Secretary Dan Uneda.

Grisafe commented, "Starting any new club is a big job but we really have some good people with great ideas. With these people I'm sure that the JETS club will soon become a great success."

Orchestra performs around community, in school musical

Performing both around the community and for the school, Director Pat Rainer led the Orchestra through one of their most successful years.

The Orchestra once again performed several times for Leisure World during the year. They were also the only string ensemble chosen to play for the Orange County Board of Education, an honor that they were proud of. The Orchestra also accompanied the school's musical, "The Boyfriend," as well as performing at several other school functions.

During their class period, fourth in the band room, members not only rehearsed for upcoming engagements, but also strove to further their musical skills. Music both by Mozart and Handel was often played, including selections by various other composers.

Ms. Rainer said jokingly of her experience with the Orchestra that "aside from their outstanding musical talents, they always seem to be munching on something . . ."

Jazz Band has fun playing jazz greats Basie and Ellington

The Jazz Band, consisting of thirteen musicians, had a busy and successful year. It was directed by Ms. Pat Rainer.

The Jazz Band performed at many community events, and competed at both Mission Viejo and Burbank. They also planned a spring tour through Virginia, West Virginia, and Washington D.C.: Jazz Band performed several times during the year for the school.

They raised money for their trips and other activities by holding candy sales, offering both M&M's and Gummy Bears. On weekends, the members collected paper and aluminum and paper for recycling.

The music, played mainly by brass and percussion instruments, included pieces by jazz legends Count Basie and Duke Ellington, as well as selections by more modern composers.

Ms. Pat Rainer said that the Jazz Band was "Always fun to take places, and always a good time."

Beginning Dance performs a Fall Folk Dance Festival

Students newly joining El Toro's dance program participated in the Beginning Dance Class. Also joining were those who auditioned in June and were placed at this level.

In their class sessions, the students were introduced to many different styles of dance. The beginning dancers learned the basics of tap and ballet, as well as jazz and modern dance. They also choreographed some orignial dances and studied music for dance.

After Beginning Dance's Folk Dance unit, they performed a Folk Dance Festival in the fall. Ms. Carol Mitchell, the dance instructor, said that at this level she was trying to "explose them to the various styles of dance and dance appreciation," and "teach them the skills which will apply to all syles of dance."

Beginning Dance met fourth period in the dance room.

Intermediate Dance blazes in their winter performance

Students with dance experience but not yet ready to join the Production Class were placed in Intermediate Dance. The auditions were held in June of the previous school year.

During class, the dancers furthered many of the skills they were introduced to in Beginning Dance. The dancers advanced both tap and ballet skills, as well as modern dance and jazz. Their choreography skills were also improved upon in order to prepare themselves for, hopefully, a spot in Dance Production.

In January, Intermediate Dance performed a concert titled, "Burnin' up the Dance Floor." Ms. Carol Mitchell said of this class that "they work together well," and that "we all had a lot of fun with the 'Break Dance Boys'."

Dance Production performs concerts in fall and spring

The very finest dancers participating in auditions held in June joined El Toro's Dance Production dance company.

The troupe was led by seniors Sydney Muth, manager and Cheryl Hanger, another three year dancer. "I've had a lot of fun this year, and 'Mom Mitchell' is really the greatest." said Manager Muth of dance advisor, Mrs. Carol Mitchell. In turn, Mitchell praised Dance Production as "a congenial, hard-working group," and that she was "loving working with Sydney and all of them."

During class periods members of the troupe furthered the choreography skills they began in Intermediate Dance. In addition to choregoraphing their own original programs, the dancers received class assignments in which they were required to compose a dance centered around a scene or prop.

Dance Production's final products took form as two highly successful concerts, in addition to a luncheon/fashion show. In October, they held their Children's Dance Concert, and their spring concert, with an "America" theme, was the height of their year.

Chamber choir dances and sings in their spring show

Chamber Choir, consisting of 11 girls and 11 boys, worked hard all year, and were rewarded with an outstanding season, making over forty performances for both the school and the community.

Serving their community, Chamber Choir performed for local Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, and Leisure World. They also performed in May in their spring concert at which new members to the ensemble were announced, and alumni were introduced. They also participated in the Christmas choir concert.

Chamber Choir performed all types of music, with an emphasis towards modern pieces. They also choreographed many of their songs.

The Choir, comprised of sophomores, juniors, and several seniors, was led by President Doug Berger. Mr. Jerry Rouse directed the choir, which was accompanied by Mrs. Karen Lagome. "They're the best sounding and fastest learning group I've had in a long time," said Rouse of Chamber Choir.

Concert Choir performs for school and community

Concert Choir was a mixed group of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who joined the choir by auditioning the previous year. They performed throughout the year for the school and community.

They appeared at the Christmas Concert, and planned their own show in the spring. They were also rated by a panel of judges at a county-wide choir festival. They performed for a religious convention in Anaheim during the fall.

The Choir was led by President Lisa Wood, and directed by Mr. Jerry Rouse with accompaniment by Mrs. Karen Legome. Concert Choir met for rehearsal fifth period in the Choir room.

School newspaper keeps El Toro students informed

The Olé staff, who met daily in room 314 during fourth period, devoted a lot of time to publish issues of the school newspaper at approximately three week intervals.

The Olé was led by Editor-in-Chief senior Vickie Langohr, who finished her fourth year on the staff, and was assisted by three year member junior Carol Speaker, two year member sophomore April Vicker, and valuable newcomer Valerie Frazee.

The Olé's main purpose was to keep the school informed of upcoming activities and to provide a forum for students to voice concerns and opinions. Advisor Mr. Mike Gallups, English teacher, commented, "This year's staff was very young in relation to past years. Though twenty of the twenty four students were ninth and tenth graders they displayed a great deal of responsibility in covering the many varied activities."

"Once again the leadership of Langohr and Speaker was outstanding. The many hours the pair spent organizing, editing, and designing resulted in a fine high school publication."

The twenty four staff members were responsible for developing an idea for a story through interviewing, writing and editing. Langohr remarked, "The best thing about working on the Olé is that you really start to feel like you're a part of ETHS. You know what's going on with all the clubs and groups, you meet a lot of new people, and you find out about things you never knew ET had. You also have a chance to change things by writing editorials and getting an opportunity to make your thoughts known to a lot of people. Overall it's a good way to be involved in El Toro."

Sailing Club active through Explorer Scouting program

The Sailing Club, advised by Mr. Dave Johnson, was an extension of the South Coast Sailing Club. The SVUSD sponsored the club through the Explorer Scouting program for high school students interested in learning to sail.

Members were required to pay a fee of $39.00 per semester. This fee included sailing on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, lessons on Sabots and Lido 14's, a semester of classroom instruction, and racing on boats of all sizes. For an additional cost, members could take cruises in the Newport Harbor, to Mexico, and to the Channel Islands. The club also competes in regattas held by the Dana Point and Capistrano Bay Yacht Clubs, the Explorer Scouts, and the Interscholastic Yacht Racing Association.

"The South Coast Sailing Team is in one of the most exciting years ever. A new facility is being built at the Youth Docks of Dana Point Harbor. We have more large sailing vessels than ever," remarked Johnson.

Pep Club raises spirit for football, basketball programs

The Pep Club was peppier than ever! The club worked together with the Pep Squad and Commissioner to promote spirit for extracurricular activities, such as football and basketball games.

The club raised funds by selling blue and gold shakers for a dollar a piece. The Pep Club also helped promote the girls' basketball team's "Terrible Towels." Pizza parties sponsored by the Pep Club were held after several football games.

Pep Club was led by President Danielle Sweazy, in addition to Vice President Steve Adams, Secretary Dave Steele, and Treasurer Bob Defransca. Mr. Randy Kent, advisor of the Pep Club and head of the Science Department, described the club as "a vital part of school life," and "without it, El Toro High School would be a different place."

Pep Club met on Fridays in room 209.

Chargettes perform during half-time and in parades

Drill Team had a busy and successful year performing for the community, the school, and at various events.

During class periods, first and second, Drill Team prepared for upcoming events, such as parade competitions at Mission Viejo and Santa Barbara, at both of which Drill Team placed first. They also performed in the Disneyland Parade. Drill Team regularly appeared at school activities such as football games, pep rallies and assemblies. They also planned a tour along with the band to Washington, D.C. and Virginia in the spring.

The Drill Team was led by Captains Lesley Hallada and Rochelle DeAvila, both seniors. Lieutenants were Juniors Chris DiBattista and Debbie Atencio. It was advised by Ms. Judy Schultz of the science department.

To raise money, the Drill Team sold See's suckers and Gummy Bears. Also offered were tickets to a pancake festival.

Members joined the previous by auditioning in the previous spring.

Marching Band performs at Rams Game, Rose Parade

The Marching Band has worked hard to have another successful Year. It was directed by Mrs. Pat Rainer.

The band was rewarded for their long hours of practice by capturing first place in competitions at Santa Barbara, El Modena, Chaffey, and Savanna. The Band was also invited to play in the Rose Parade and at the Rams vs. Forty-Niners game during half-time. The Band was led by drum majors Roger Berger and Don White, both seniors. Ms. Rainer said that the band "no matter how good they are now, they're always getting better."

Colorguard performs in many successful shows

Competitions and tournaments were important activities for Color Guard. At the Chaffey Field Tournament, rifle and flags received first place honors. The flags also placed first in the Santa Barbara Field Show, at which the rifles ranked third among the competitors. In addition to field shows, the squads participated in several parades in and around the community. Among these were El Modena Parade and Field Show, the Mission Viejo Parade and Field Show, and the Tournament of Champions. The highpoint of the year was the 1985 Rose Parade, in which both the flags and rifle teams participated.

Captain Carol Moore led the rifles squad, and flags and banner was led by Joyce Brown. Advisors for the year were Ms. Maryann Farelli and Ms. Pat Rainer, who took over during the second semester. Farelli commented, "Color Guard promotes spirit and pride at ETHS. The girls put in long hours, and show determination to always do their very best."

"I feel that El Toro is an excellent high school. Excellence is shown in three areas: education, athletics, and student spirit and attitude El Toro High School gives students to receive an excellent education. The staff here have a common goal, excellence in their students. The staff at El Toro provide an ideal learning environment. Another area of excellence at El Toro is the athletics program. The instructers in athletics give students the opportunity to strive for excellence and bring home the honor of victory to El Toro. Finally, the spirit of students here is tremendous. Everyone enjoys going to the greatest school in the world, ETHS. These are the qualities of excellence that I feel make El Toro #1."

"There are many things tht make El Toro a great school, but the one aspect of our school that makes it stand above the other schools is that our teachers try harder, care more, and motivate the students to learn. It's these teachers who participate in the sports, help prepare for the dances, and give their time to the many clubs on our fine campus that make El Toro great."

"At El Toro High School there are many qualities of excellence for both students and teachers. In students, excellence is marked both by the students' extra effort on their school work and also their special pride for the school teams. In teachers, excellence is marked by their ability not only to teach but to listen to students' comments. As people see El Toro has set high standards of excellence."

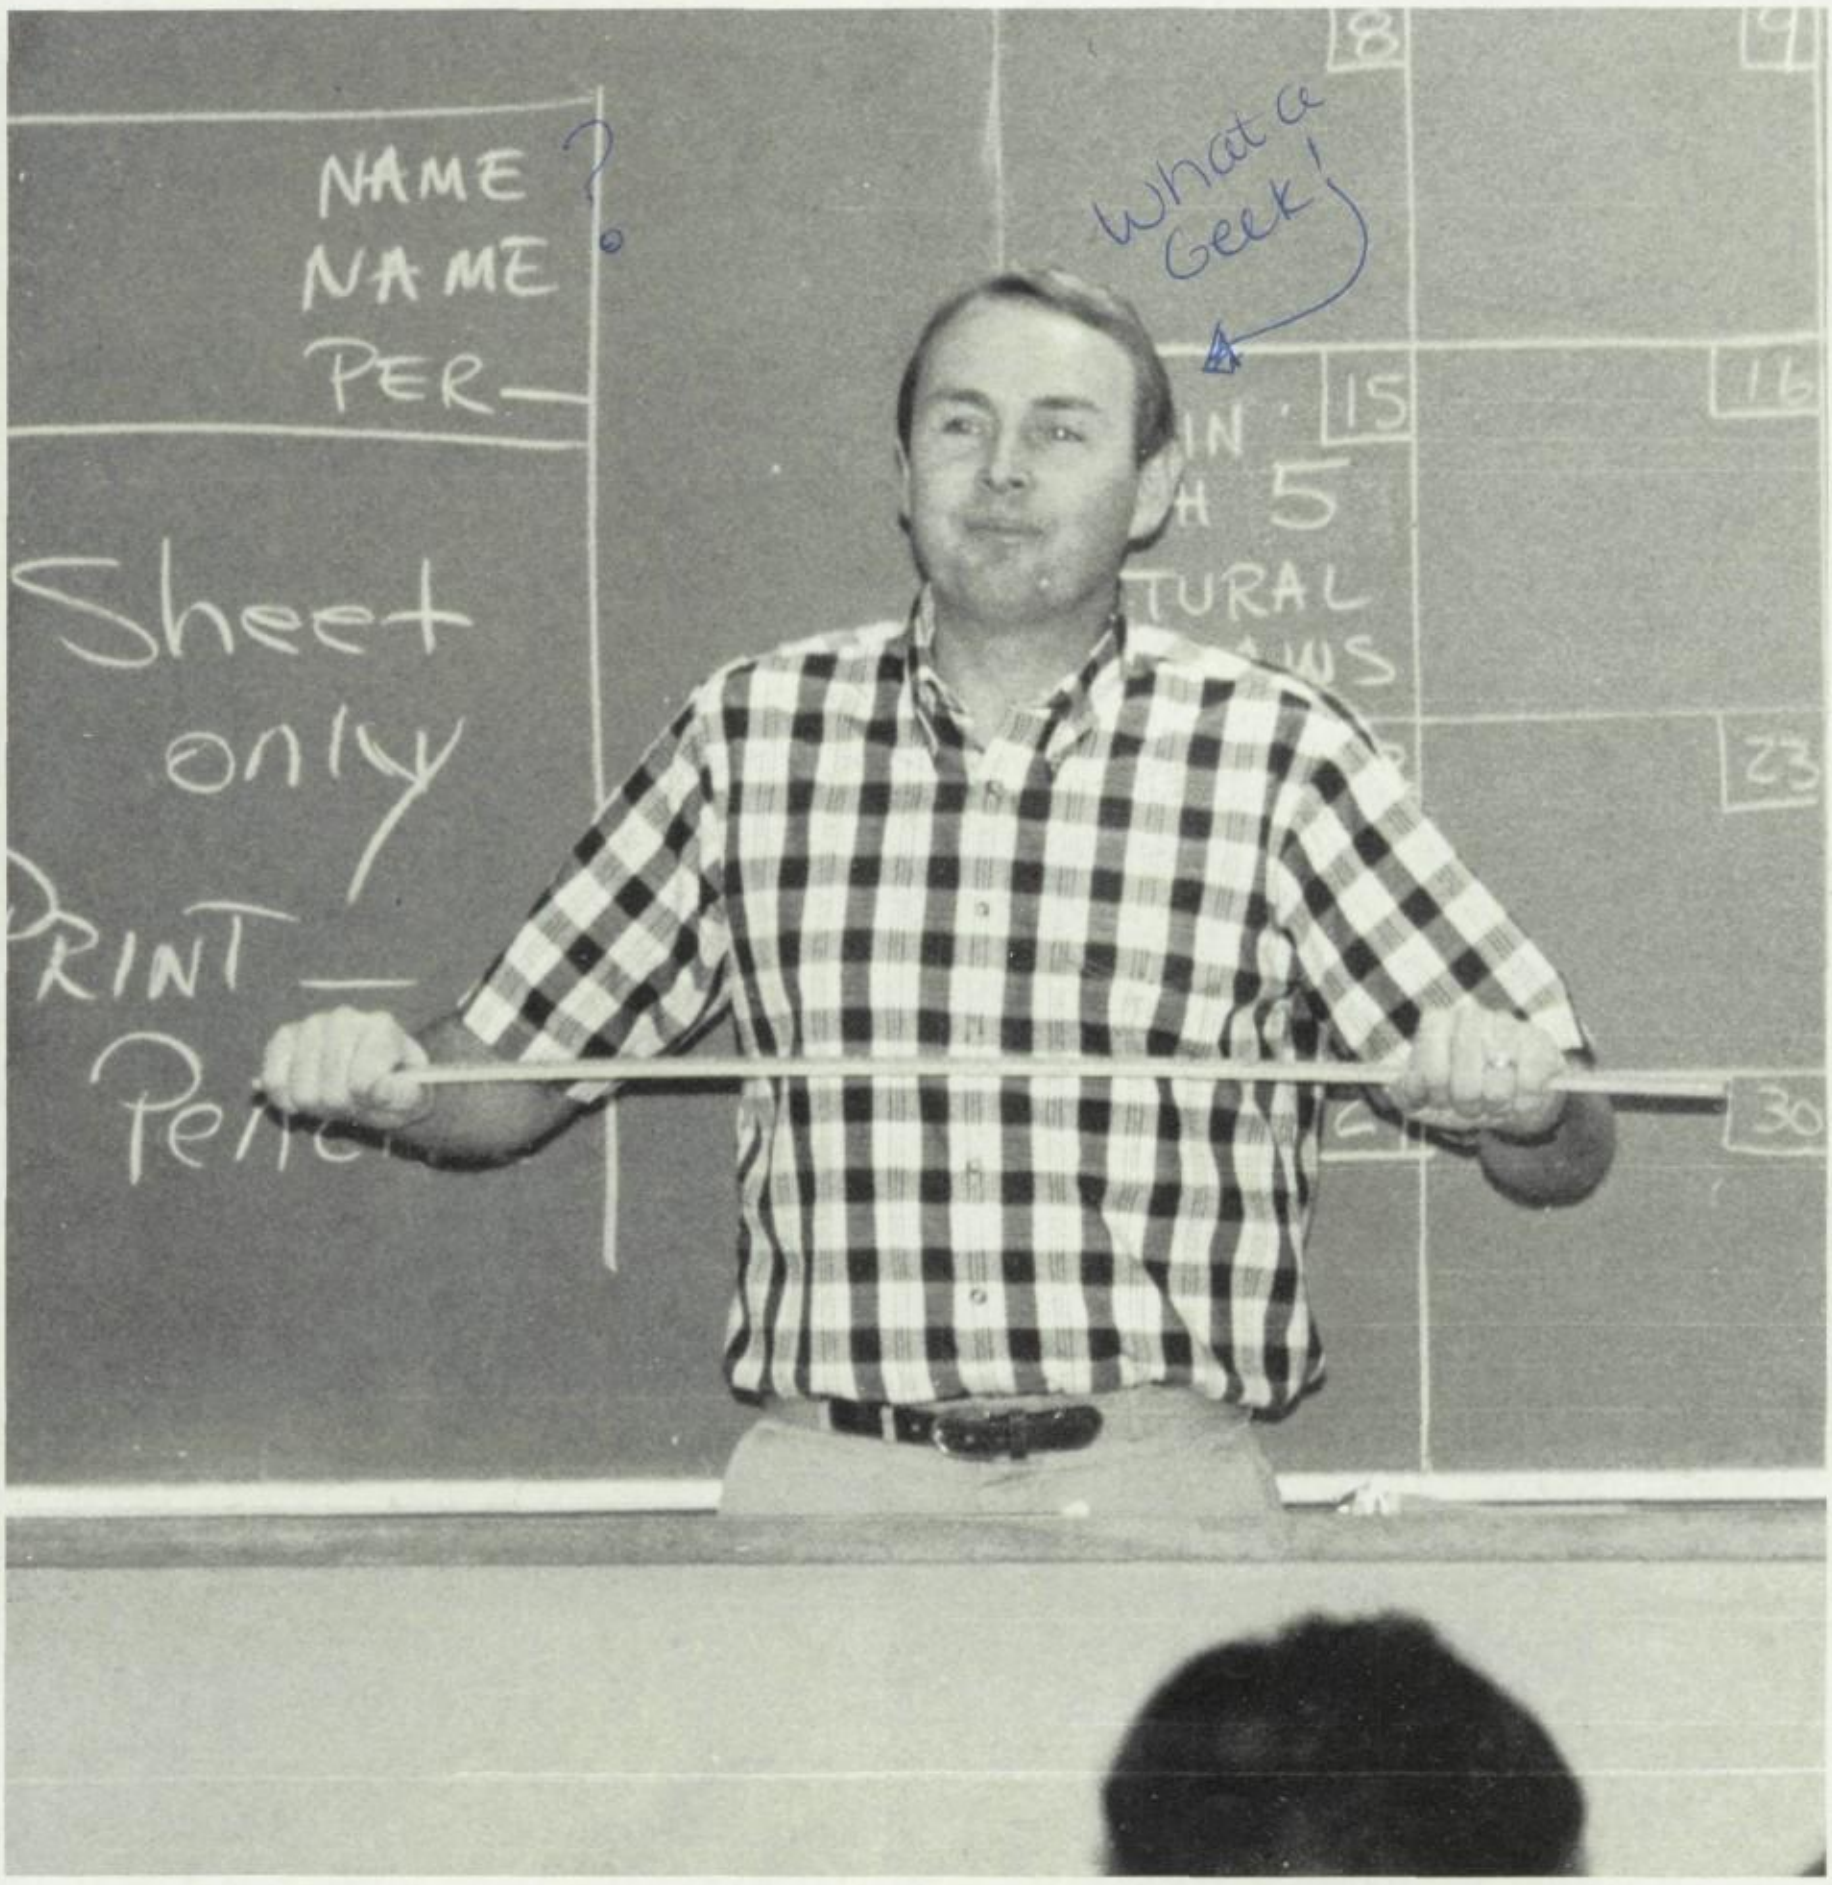
Commitment to Excellence in Education



Administration responsible for the success of school

The Administration of El Toro High school provided high standards and strove for excellence in the area of assisting the student body. The Administration consisted of Mr. Don Walker, Principal; Mr. Don Martin, Vice Principal; Mr. Bruce Taschner, Vice Principal; Mr. Chuck Keith, Dean of Students; and Mr. Keith Sims, Activities Director. These highly-influential people were responsible for the high quality education offered. The very successful, new attendance policy was put into effect thanks to the outstanding efforts of Mr. Don Martin and Mr. Chuck Keith.

Mr. Don Walker has served as principal for six years and has been greatly influential in the success of both the student body and the faculty staff.

Both Mr. Bruce Taschner and Mr. Don Martin served as vice principals, and did their best to add to the outstanding education offered.

Mr. Chuck Keith's first full year at El Toro was spent handling student discipline.

Mr. Keith Sims was in charge of activities such as assemblies and pep rallies and contributed to school spirit and the conscientious atmosphere.

Efforts of the clerical staff makes school day efficient

In 1984-85, twenty-two clerical staff members had a range of responsibilities that helped them contribute to the excellence of the school.

These responsibilities included clerical work, such as typing, computer work and answering the phones.

The clerical staff was also responsible for the new computerized attendance system which they hoped would reduce the number of tardies, truants and absenses. They were also instrumental in the forming of schedules and solving student problems.

The faculty gives support and dedication to students

Throughout the year, students recognized the faculty for its commitment to excellence in the field of education. Each week Alexis Perumal and Earl Disiderio discussed and recommended to the A.S.B. council a teacher who they felt did an excellent job. The A.S.B. then voted and picked a teacher that they felt deserved the honor. This was a way that the students showed gratitude to those teachers who went above and beyond the call of duty. Some teachers gave extra time during and after school helping students with their studies and homework.

The teachers showed tremendous spirit and dedication to the school. During past sports seasons many teachers took personal time to cheer on the athletic teams. Teachers served as role models for students, and in turn, contributed to the idea of academic and extra-curricular excellence.

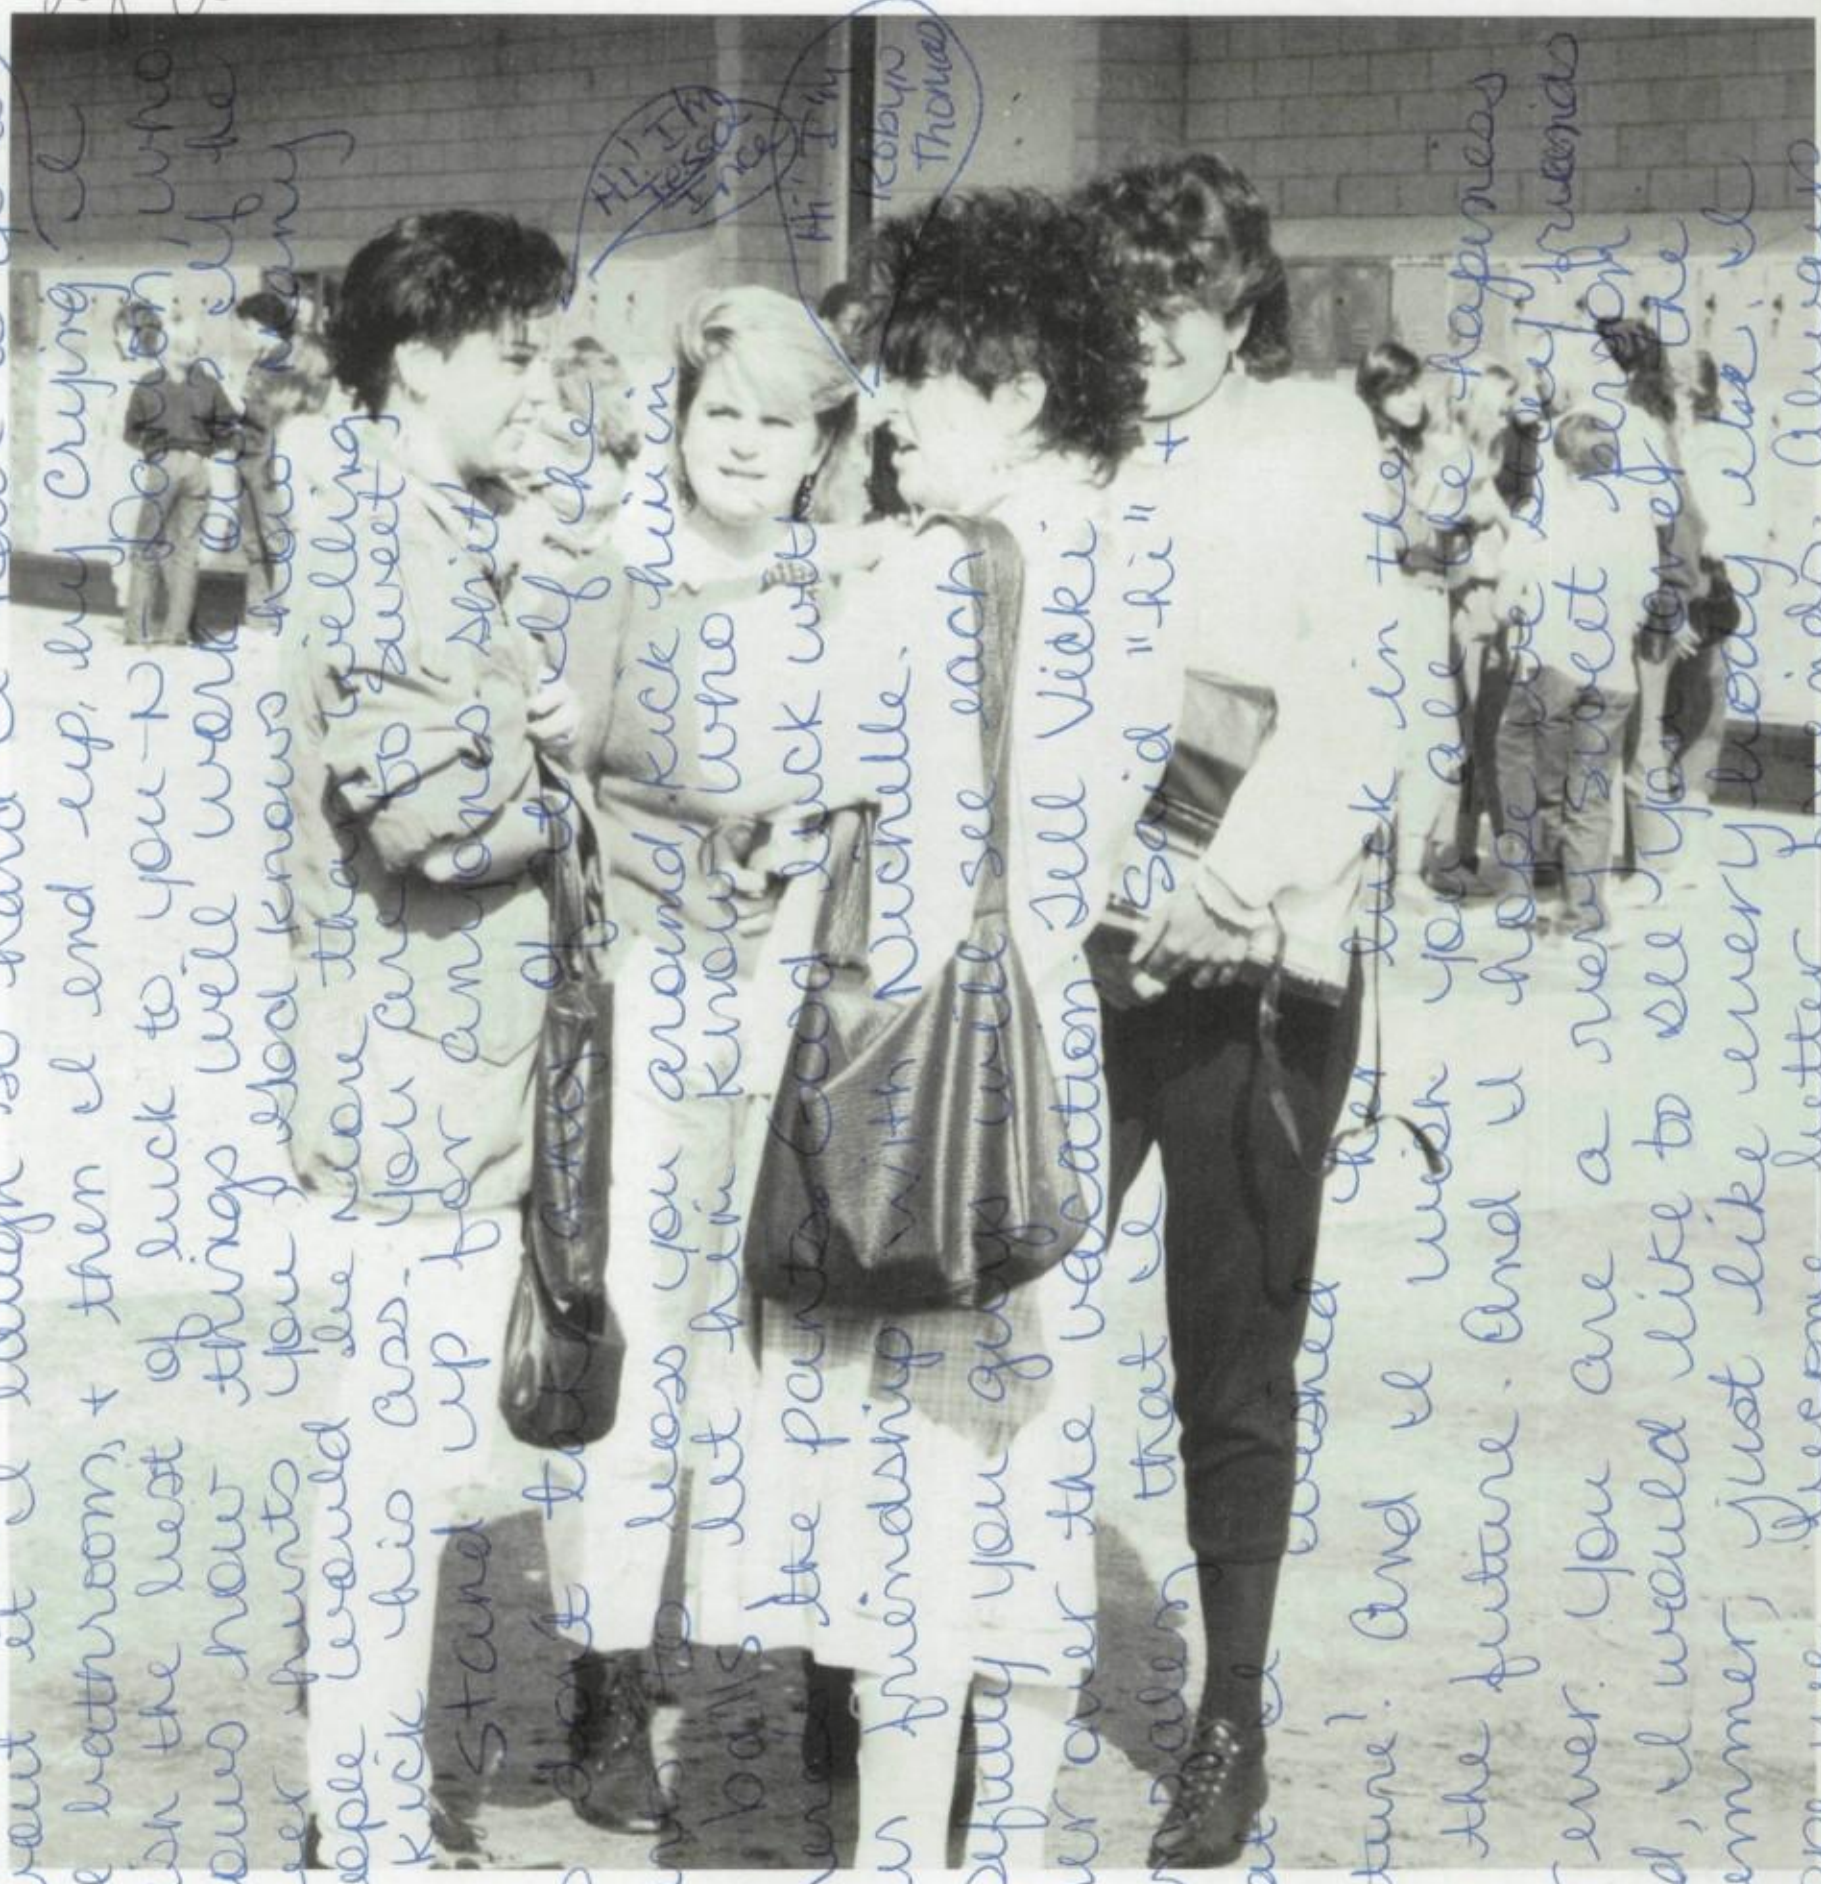
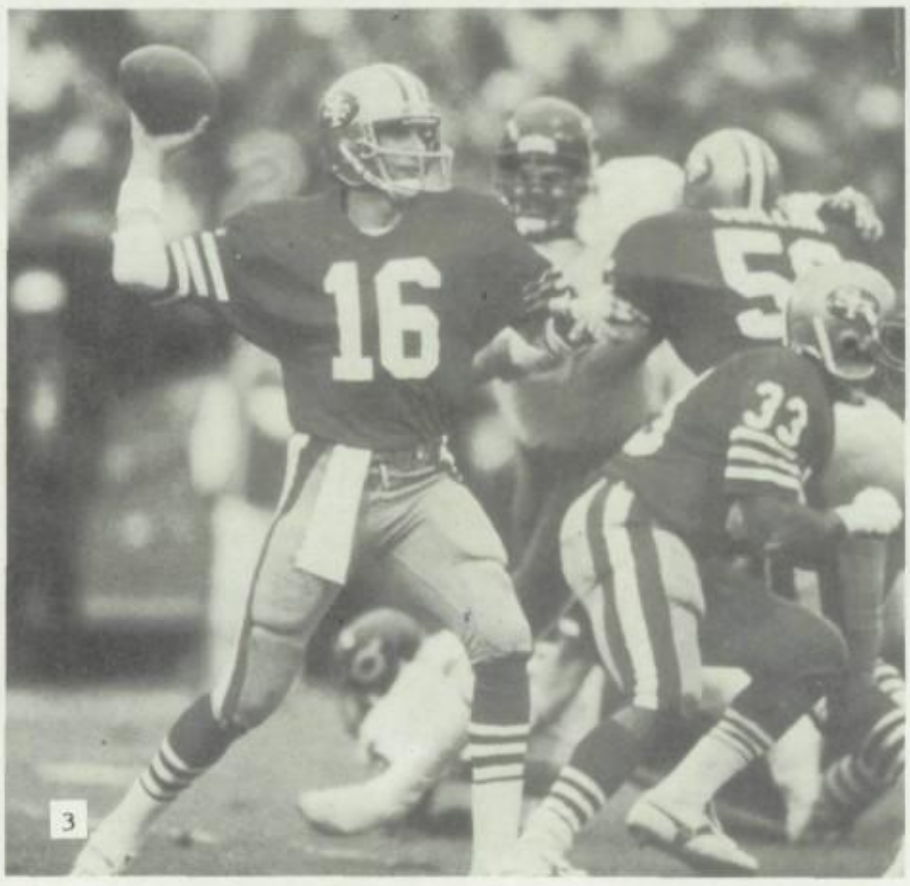
Year in Review





Super people from sports rush into limelighted glory

Inside the sports scene, the limelight was again set on annual events and remarkable players. Beginning with football, Doug Flutie went from fourth-stringer to the Heisman Trophy winner of 1984. Next, an astonishing running back rushed for 215 yards against the Houston Oilers to break O. J. Simpson's one season record of 2,000 yards. The Ram's Eric Dickerson broke that record on his season finale at San Francisco.

Another running back who hit the sports pages was Walter Payton of the Chicago Bears. At 30 years of age, this player ran into history rushing for 2,795 yards in 10 seasons with the Bears. With this came the title of football's best ground gainer, passing up the legendary Jim Brown.

And finally to round up the football premiers, Superbowl XIX. The spectacular clash of the NFC against the AFC was an exciting event, introducing 23 year old Dan Marino as the incredible rookie quarterback for the Miami Dolphins. But Joe Montana of the San Francisco '49-ers also displayed his expertise and was victorious in dominating and winning Superbowl XIX.

The World Series put the Detroit Tigers head to head with the San Diego Padres. The result was a championship for the Tigers in a 4-2 triumph. Also, Peter Ubberoth was named the new baseball commissioner, replacing Howie Kuhn.

ARLINA, YOU'RE SO FUNNY (CLOSE TOO.)) IT WAS A BORING CLASS WE WERE IN TOGETHER BECAUSE WE NEVER WERE ALLOWED TO TALK. LET'S HOPE WE GET IN ANOTHER CLASS TOGETHER WE CAN TALK IN. HOPE YOU HAVE A NICE SUMMERSCHOOL(WOW JUMP!)) SUMMER AND PASS YOUR CLASSES NEXT YR. TOO LOVE, DAN RAUTMANN

Music in the spotlight, as artists hit the silver screen

Hitting the music score this year was a variety of new music and artists. Introduced were such artists as Sheila E., Madonna, Frankie Goes to Hollywood, General Public, and Cyndi Lauper. Dio, Motley Crue, the Scorpions, and Twisted Sister were among those groups that appealed to those students preferring harder rock.

Several outstanding concerts took place during the school year. Bruce Springsteen, U2, Wham!, Frankie Goes to Hollywood, the Jacksons, General Public, and Van Halen were among the more popular groups that toured through the course of the year.

Many of the rock stars have expanded their careers into the world of acting. There's Prince in Purple Rain, the Police's Sting co-starring in Dune, followed by other roles in The Bride and Plenty, and Madonna co-starring in the movie Desperately Seeking Susan.

During the Christmas season, a special band formed to lend their community support to the drought crisis that took place in Ethiopia. The combination of these various groups was named "Bandaid." It included talented musicians like Paul Young, Boy George, Bono — the lead singer of U2, members of Duran Duran, and Sting from the successful group, Police.

The best of entertainment appeals to the general public

The news in entertainment made headlines throughout the school year. The year showed such high rated movies as Beverly Hills Cop, starring the incredible Eddie Murphy, Witness, with Harrison Ford, The Falcon and the Snowman, with Sean Penn and Timothy Hutton, The Terminator, introducing Arnold Schwarzenegger to the acting profession, and finally The Breakfast Club. Mel Gibson made an outstanding performance in The River with Sissy Spacek.

Television held its own with successful night time dramas. The battle between Dallas and Dynasty still continued and the hot television mini-series, Hollywood Wives, based on the novel by Jackie Collins, was controversial. Another successful mini-series was Evergreen, starring Lesley Ann Warren and Armand Assante. One of the dim points of the year was the tragic death of Richard Burton.

Finally, a massive amount of Hollywood stars "Tied the knot," with some still setting dates. First on the long list was the engagement of Eddie Murphy and fiancee Lisa Figueroa. Other big names on the society columns' list of upcoming weddings were Mariel Hemingway's engagement to Hard Rock Cafe owner, Steve Crisman, Bette Midler found herself caught in wedlock, and the most eligible bachelor, Joe Namath, married actress Deborah Lynn. A biggie, Olivia Newton-John, said the "I Do" to five year roommate, Matt Lattanzi, while Barbara Streisand, Sheena Easton, Cher, Sally Fields, Jamie Lee Curtis, and Farrah Fawcett were close behind.

Students' fashion varied with bold prints and bright colors

The 84-85 school year brought forth various fads and fashions on campus. Flashing flourescent apparel was most prominent, and student dress and hairstyles were influenced by pop artists such as Madonna and Billy Idol.

Girls favoring a more vogue look, preferred slim heeled pumps paired with lacy patterned stockings. Guys styles ranged from casual sportswear, including Gotcha shorts and Maui shirts, to slim ties accompanied by pleated dress slacks.

Accessories included silver bangles, long hanging earrings and rhinestone pins, earrings and bracelets in the wildest colors imaginable.

A V-neck sweater was often paired with a delicate lace shirt and some startling colored sweaters matched leg-lighter nylons.

With the winter season came warm and woolly sweaters. Popular on the fashion scene were clothes of unmatched patterns and textures like plaid, checks and bold prints.

Though there were numerous styles of dresswear found on campus, fashion was still left primarily to personal appeal.

1. Larry Malkin displays his "leather look." 2. Jennifer Kowitt and Theresa Flaherty show their sweater skirt combination and casual "spring jumpsuit" fashion. 3. Ginger Thacker and Denise Harris show their own style of dresswear.

Arlena,
I wish we spended more time together. It was great fun tiring out for softball. Call me 586-4373. Thanks for being a great friend. Have a great Summer. Love ya

Foreign issues abroad help to make nations unite as one

At the start of the 84-85 school year, all election news about Campaign '84, hit the front of the magazines on all newspaper stands. The election introduced the first woman candidate for the office of Vice President, Geraldine Ferraro, and the first black candidate for President Jesse Jackson. Ferraro and Mondale represented the Democratic Party. Ronald Reagan was the worthy adversary. The final outcome resulted in a landslide for the Republican Party.

Various tragedies occurred that displayed the harshness that foregin countries face. A prime example was the emergency situation that took place in Ethiopia. Due to the crisis concerning a drought, 25,000 people faced starvation. This event was so tragic that numerous members from rock bands joined together to raise money for the cause. India had its night of death when more than 2,500 people were killed in a gas leak, the worst industrial accident ever.

One of the world's shocking events was the assassination of Indira Gandhi, Prime Minister of India. The leadership of India was quickly transferred on to her son, Raijiv. His goal was to improve relations with America.

An anonymous infant made medical history by living longer than anyone with a heart transplant from an animal. Baby Fae lived with a baboon heart for more than a week with an animal heart transplant. Also, Mr. William Schroeder was the second man to successfully accept an artificial heart.

The world witnessed the birth of Princess Di's second child. The Princess of Wales had her baby and it was a boy, heir Henry Charles Albert David, Prince Harry for short.

And finally, Time Magazine named its man of the year as being Mr. Peter Ubberroth, the man behind the Organizing Committee for the 1984 Summer Olympics.

Arlina,
its been a great year hanging with you. Hopefully we can go and visit Cha-Cha. This year has been filled with a lot of wonderful and different things like Damon Basketball and everyday in itself. Over the summer we are going to get together. Because you are friends for life. Arlina we have been through a lot of times both kind, and good times. I am really going to miss you over the summer. But I am sure that we will have some more great times. Love your friend for life, Cupid - Jun AKA Nickelle c/o '87 thats the fact Jack. I am to miss you glad that we have some next year

Arlina,
You are so funny. I'm glad we were in English together, you a great person & a good friend. have a great summer and see you next year
Love ya
Sandy Bleiman

Hey Babe! I'm really glad we became friends a long time ago and I'm very glad we are in the same class. Have a great summer and I'll see you next year.
Love ya
Regina

Arlina,
he chick what's up? We had fun in math at last! I did! not because of mr. Webber but because you always made it fun! Believe me he makes an ass out of you as much as he does to me! well it was nice meeting you this year! keep in touch!
hugs

We have found it a privilege and an honor to have taken part in the production of this annual. It was a very time consuming task that involved a lot of hard work and dedication. We would like to express our gratitude to the Yearbook Staff for their time and effort. The class was very demanding and we appreciated their commitment to excellence. We would also like to express our gratitude to Mr. Mike Gallups for always helping us when we were in dire need of aid and guidance. (We really loved the mailbox, when we remembered it.) We would like to thank Mr. Dave Anderson and Creative Images for constantly supplying the photographers with film. We would also like to thank him for developing all our pictures, for taking all the senior pictures, for all those extra visits, and for supplying duplicate pictures for the seniors during the ink crisis. Mr. Bob Stephenson and Taylor Publishing Company, thank you for all the suggestions and cooperation. We would like to thank the coaches, club advisors, and administrators for their cooperation with group pictures and information. Ramsey Lozano, we thank you for managing all the business with Creative Images and for your advice on life. We thank Mr. Sims and Ms. McKinney for helping us with our fund raisers and for giving us information on upcoming events. We would like to thank all our sponsors for their support by buying the ads, and thank the ASB for selling the books for us.

Sincerely,

Denise Lew Ann Suh Paula Dutton

Did you have a good year? I didn't think so.
your friend "ALWAYS"

Arina,
How cute! Did you draw that? Looks like a sweet dress. I hope you are having a great day.
We had fun
at the park with Dad.
Love you,
Mom
